

STRASBOURG, FRANCE

This four-week program of intensive language and culture study in Paris and Strasbourg, France, is for students with at least one semester of college-level French. Language classes are taught by native speakers at the Centre international d'études de langues (CIEL). An experiential course is taught by the VSU program director. Students earn six (6) credit hours which count toward VSU language requirements and credits for the minor and major. Lodging and meals in Paris and Strasbourg are provided. In both cities museum and activity fees are paid by the program. Students must be at least 18 years old and possess a valid passport. (Passports must be applied for by January 1.)

Seat of the Council of Europe and meeting place for the European Parliament, a mere city bus ride from Germany and an hour's train ride from Switzerland, Strasbourg sits at the center of the new Europe. As capital of the historic province of Alsace, it also charms visitors with its traditional architecture and cuisine. At its heart sits one of the jewels of medieval Europe, the rose-colored stone cathedral of Strasbourg.

CIEL is a language school affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce of Strasbourg. Classes are held Monday through Friday, four hours a day. Students' placement will be determined by written examination administered before departure. The student body is a mix of multiple nationalities for whom French is the common language. With its modern facilities, native instructors and homestays, CIEL provides an excellent learning environment.

Living in France, taught by the VSU faculty leader, examines social, political, and cultural issues in contemporary France, with insight into their historical context. Excursions in Paris and in Strasbourg and the surrounding province of Alsace, with a stay in Paris at the beginning of the program and one at the end complement the readings and class discussions.
