

SECTION 806.08

Resignation

Employees of the University who intend to vacate their position should notify their supervisor at least two weeks in advance. This would allow sufficient time for the Department of Human Resources to conduct the necessary posting and applicant screening and referral to obtain a suitable replacement. A two-week notice will also help the University in its decision to recommend the departing employee for future employment.