

School Counseling Program at Valdosta State University

Survey Results

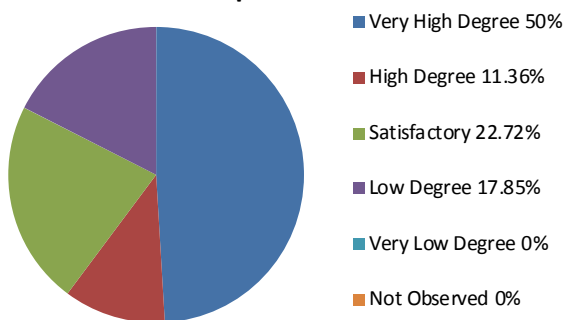

The School Counseling Program at Valdosta State University helps graduate students develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions required to be a professional school counselor.

- The program provides the educational and experiential experiences needed for certification as well as the knowledge and skills necessary for future employment.
- The chart on the right is representative of the degree to which graduates of the School Counseling Program at Valdosta State University agree with survey statements. Questions range in topic from overall satisfaction of skills and knowledge gained to usefulness of field experiences.

School Counseling Program - Survey of Program Graduates - Overall Program Evaluation

Employer Survey - School Counselor Preparedness

- Employers of recent graduates of the VSU School Counseling program were surveyed to assess the preparedness of graduates of the school counseling program.

- Questions range in topic from ability of the school counselor to use data to facilitate academic success, to increasing social/emotional development and career preparedness for all students.

- Site supervisors of practicum and internship students were surveyed to assess whether students demonstrate the necessary knowledge, skills, and dispositions of an effective school counselor.

- Questions range in topic from ability of the school counseling student to use data to facilitate academic success, to increasing social/emotional development and career preparedness for all students.

Site Supervisor Survey - Intern Preparedness

