AT VALDOSTA STATE UNIVERSITY, OUR MISSION focuses on the long-term, total educational experience of each of our students. Our success is measured by your success. Our greatest strength is our faculty, whose primary focus is teaching. They're not here by accident. They chose to teach at Valdosta State because it's the kind of university where they can make a difference. Our faculty are approachable. They welcome the opportunity to talk to you about your career aspirations, engage you in research, or discuss the news events of the day.

With over 11,500 students, we are just the right size - large enough to offer over 100 degree programs of study, over 200 student organizations, and the total residential college experience, yet small enough to give you the personal attention you deserve. The strength of our student body lies in its diversity. We currently have students from 50 states and 67 foreign countries. You will be around people who will make you feel right at home, but also challenge you with different perspectives on life.

Valdosta State University is located in Valdosta, GA, 20 miles north of the Florida line within easy driving distance of the beaches, resorts, and recreational areas of Georgia and Florida. Valdosta is located off I-75 making it easily accessible for students from North Georgia and South Florida. Valdosta and Lowndes County with a population of 110,000 is the commercial, medical, and entertainment hub for the surrounding 60 mile area. The mild climate, friendly people, and natural beauty of the area make this a great place to attend college.

HONORS COLLEGE

If you like the idea of being academically challenged, the Honors College may be just the place for you. The classes are not necessarily more difficult, but you will be challenged. Your professors will use innovative and creative teaching methods specifically for students like you. The Honors College is designed for academically motivated students to reach their full academic potential, but also provide recognition for your interests outside of the classroom. Classes have around 20 students and offer world class instruction, lively discussions, research projects, and the opportunity to build lasting relationships with faculty and fellow students.

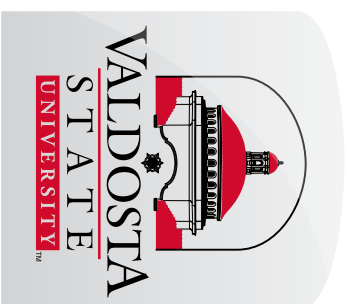

Academics are the focal point, but you will probably want to be involved in many aspects of campus life. The Honors College gives you the opportunity to do both. You will participate in community service activities, attend lectures, and social events with peers – giving you the complete college experience! Reade Hall, the Honors College residence hall, is a cozy facility that has recently undergone an extensive renovation. Reade Hall sleeps only 88 students making this a true learning environment with a real sense of community. In addition, you get priority registration each semester giving you the advantage to customize your schedule.
