Evaluating Your HOAE Scores

The exam is divided into 5 parts to be completed within a 2½ hour period.

Part I - Academic Aptitude (90 total possible points) Academic aptitude as measured by the total (combined subtests), might be thought of as a type of ability to learn. The academic aptitude total emphasizes familiar experiences and concepts while requiring careful reasoning and the capacity to comprehend and draw conclusions.

Verbal: The Verbal aspect consists of 30 vocabulary-related test questions. Empirical evidence has shown this type of test item to be highly related to academic success.

Arithmetic: The numerical aspect consists of 30 items drawing largely from arithmetic. To some degree, it involves skill with arithmetical concepts along with computational speed. The content of the numerical items is that to which practically all eighth grade students have been exposed.

Nonverbal: The nonverbal aspect consists of 30 test items calling for a comprehension of form relationships. Measurement is in terms of the ability to manipulate "things" mentally, to reason out differences in pictured objects, and to deal with concrete materials through visualization. Recognition of relationships and of differences has been shown by research to be basic to learning aptitude.

Part II – Spelling (60 total possible points) The spelling test measures skill with a tool essential to written expression or communication. It also reflects educational achievement in basic tools of learning.

Part III - Reading Comprehension (45 total possible points) This test measures ability to understand direct statements, interpret written content, see the authors intent, observe organization of ideas, and to extract information from written material with respect to ideas and purposes; thus to read and comprehend what is read.

Part IV - Information in the Natural Sciences (65 total possible points) Measurement with this test concerns accumulation of information in the natural sciences, i.e., biology, chemistry, health, safety, etc., at a fundamental level. The relationship of knowledge in the area of the natural sciences to the course of study of the allied health educational program is an obvious one.

Part V - Vocational Adjustment Index (90 total possible points) The person's characteristic life style is reflected in his or her distinctive educational and occupational adjustment. Feelings, attitudes, opinions, and other personality characteristics and behavioral traits, which may be quite acceptable in many situations, may not be those desirable for the prospective healthcare professional either as a student or as a practitioner

Competitive Admission Uses the Raw Scores for calculation (Best possible Raw Score is 350)

- Raw Scores represent the number of questions answered correctly in one particular part of the examination.
- When calculating the score, the first three columns (VE, AR, NE) are subtests of the AA category.
- The first three columns are combined to determine the Academic Aptitude (AA) score.
- To arrive at a raw score for the exam, add the raw score (RS) from the last 5 columns (AA, Sp, RC, INS and VAI).
- Adding all 8 columns will not give the correct score.*

How Are Students Selected for the Dental Hygiene Program?

Students are selected through a very strict competitive process.
