The College of Education proudly maintains a commitment to providing an education for future professionals in South Georgia. Acting as a learning community, the College of Education strives to meet the needs and aspirations of the population it serves.

MISSION

The College of Education provides quality graduate instruction in its comprehensive degree programs at the master's, specialist's, and doctoral levels. In addition to a primary focus on expanding the skills of teachers and other professionals, faculty members of the College of Education also maintain a commitment to engaging in the scholarly pursuits of research and service for the advancement and sharing of knowledge. Faculty members, administrators, and staff of the College of Education envision an educational system where students fully participate in, and take responsibility for, their own learning process; where interdisciplinary and inter-institutional collaboration is the norm; and where technology is fully integrated into the learning process. The college also seeks to create an environment that promotes the full development of human potential, supports the conviction that all individuals are capable of learning, and prepares professionals to meet the needs of all learners.

VISION

An agreed-upon vision provides focus and direction for the members of an organization. The College of Education dedicates its resources and expertise to:

Preparing Professionals for Service Through Standards-Based Practice Conceptual Framework

Conceptual Frameworks guide professional education programs by defining the philosophy, rationale, and research base that support the essential instructional components of degree programs. The conceptual framework provides coherence in student outcomes, course activities, assessments, and internship or practicum experiences. Advanced degrees designed for practicing teachers have adapted the following standards developed by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS). Graduate programs in the College of Education designed for professionals outside of teaching have developed Conceptual Frameworks based on appropriate professional standards.

Conceptual Framework Principles for Graduate Teacher Education Programs (Adapted from NBPTS)

1. Graduates are committed to their roles as helping professionals.
2. Graduates are capable of excellence in their professional practice.
3. Graduates think systematically about their practice, use research, and contribute to the knowledge base.
4. Graduates are members of learning communities.

ACCREDITATION AND CERTIFICATION

The College of Education maintains accreditation with the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), and each of its individual teacher preparation programs is accredited by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (GPSC). The Dean of the College of Education is the official certification officer and recommends students for all initial certification and upgrades in certification. Specific questions concerning teacher certification should be directed to the appropriate department. In addition, the Sports Medicine Program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP), the Speech and Language Program is accredited by the American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA), and the graduate program in School Psychology is accredited by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP).

DIVERSITY

The College of Education recognizes the need for taking proactive steps to enhance multicultural and global perspectives and promote diversity. In addition to supporting multicultural perspectives throughout educational programs, the College of Education actively seeks a diverse student and faculty population.

ADVISING

For initial guidance, new graduate students in the College of Education should consult with the head of the department in which they plan to pursue a degree. Each student will be assigned an advisor in the appropriate area of study. The student and advisor will collaborate in designing the program to meet the individual needs of the student within the guidelines of the approved program of study. Students are expected to initiate contact with their advisors on a regular basis to ensure that all program requirements are being met.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Graduate students are expected to become familiar with the rules and requirements of the College of Education and to assume full responsibility for the regulations concerning their programs of study. In addition, students are expected to attend all classes regularly and abide by the student code of conduct published in the Valdosta State University Student Handbook.

GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

The College of Education offers three levels of graduate degree programs: the Master of Education degree, the Education Specialist degree, and the Doctor of Education degree. Course descriptions and programs of study leading to these degrees are listed by department.

College of Education Requirements in addition to University Requirements for Admission

1. Admission to graduate programs in the College of Education is granted by the Graduate School, in consultation with the department concerned. Students are urged to contact the department in which the major portion of the work will be taken before making formal application for admission.
2. Formal applications are obtained from, and must be submitted directly to, the Graduate School for initial evaluation.
3. The Graduate School will contact the department head for the department in which the student wishes to pursue graduate work to obtain approval for the student's entry into a graduate program within that department.
4. A student who is admitted to a graduate program will be notified by the Graduate School of his/her acceptance.
5. A student who is denied admission to a graduate program will be notified by the Graduate School and apprised of the procedure to follow if he/she wishes to appeal the denial.

MASTER OF EDUCATION (M.Ed.) DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Master of Education degree is designed to enhance and extend the knowledge and skills of students beyond the undergraduate level. The core courses at the master's level develop the students' ability to use and apply research skills, become familiar with current issues and trends in their field, and review material related to legal issues and ethics. The degrees offered are as follows:

Department of Adult and Career Education

M.Ed. Business Education

M.Ed. Adult and Vocational Education

(Technical, Trade and Industrial Education Option)

College of Education Requirements in addition to University Requirements for Admission (M.Ed)

1. The applicant must hold an undergraduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university with, in all applicable cases, an undergraduate major in, or prerequisites for, the planned graduate field of study.
2. A student will not be admitted with an undergraduate grade point average of less than 2.5 on all previous undergraduate work attempted.
3. A student will not be admitted with a Graduate Record Examination (GRE) score of less than 750 (verbal portion plus either quantitative or analytical portion) or a Miller Analogies Test (MAT) raw score of 27. The score on the verbal portion of the GRE may not be less than 350.
4. New graduate students are admitted to the M.Ed. program in Speech and Language Pathology only for fall and spring semesters.

The following point system will be used to determine admission status:

MAT	or	GRE	=	Points	GPA	=	Points
44+	or	950+	=	35 points	3.5+	=	35 points
39-43	or	900-949	=	30 points	3.25-3.49	=	30 points
36-38	or	850-899	=	25 points	3.00-3.24	=	25 points
32-35	or	800-849	=	20 points	2.75-2.99	=	20 points
27-31	or	750-799	=	15 points	2.50-2.74	=	15 points
Subtotal				_____	Subtotal		_____
TOTAL				_____

Recommendation Guidelines for Admission

- 40+ points = Regular Admission
- 30-39 = Probationary Admission
- below 30 = Non-acceptance

College of Education Requirements in addition to University Requirements for Retention and Graduation (M.Ed.)

1. A person admitted on a probationary basis may remain in this category for no more than 9 semester hours of coursework. He/she must maintain a 3.0 GPA or higher to be classified as “regular” student.
2. The maximum time allowed for completion of the master’s degree is seven calendar years. No work completed more than seven years prior to degree completion will be accepted toward the degree, except with special permission from the student’s major professor and the Dean of the College of Education and approval from the Dean of the Graduate School.
3. No more than 6 semester hours of academic work may be transferred from another institution into a College of Education graduate program. This credit must be presented to the department for evaluation at the time of admission.

All students who pursue the Master of Education degree, in a teacher preparation field, must hold an appropriate 4-year teaching certificate. Students who do not hold one of these certificates must take the necessary steps to secure the appropriate certificate or an approved alternative from the department in which they are seeking acceptance before being admitted as a regular, degree-seeking graduate student. Courses used to meet certification standards may not be used to meet requirements for the master's degree. Each department requires a capstone experience (e.g. comprehensive exam, portfolio, thesis, internship, etc.).

EDUCATION SPECIALIST (Ed.S.) DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Education Specialist degree is designed to enhance and extend the knowledge and skills of students beyond the master's level. The core course at the specialist level is designed to develop the students' ability to apply research skills in the field to solve problems and improve services in a variety of settings. The degrees offered are as follows:

Department of Adult and Education

- Ed.S. Vocational Education
 - (Business Education Option)
 - (General Vocational Education Option)

Department of Curriculum and Instructional Technology

- Ed. S. Instructional Technology

Department of Early Childhood and Reading Education

- Ed.S. Early Childhood Education

Department of Educational Leadership

- Ed.S. Educational Leadership
 - (Building Option)
 - (System Level Option)

Department of Middle Grades and Secondary Education

- Ed.S. Middle Grades Education
- Ed.S. Secondary Education

Department of Psychology and Counseling

- Ed.S. School Counseling
- Ed.S. School Psychology

Department of Special Education and Communication Disorders

- Ed.S. Special Education
 - (Communication Disorders Option)
 - (General Special Education Option)

College of Education Requirements in addition to University Requirements for Admission (Ed.S)

1. Applicants must have completed a master’s Degree at an accredited or approved institution.
2. With the exception of Instructional Technology majors, applicants must be certified at the T-5 or the equivalent service level in the teaching service field in which they intend to pursue the Ed.S.
3. With the exception of Instructional Technology and School Psychology majors, applicants must have completed three years of acceptable school experience.
4. Students will not be admitted with a grade-point average of less than 3.00 on all previous graduate work attempted.
5. Student will not be admitted with a Graduate Record Examination (GRE) score of less than 850 (verbal portion plus either quantitative or analytical portion) or a Miller Analogies Test (MAT) raw score of less than 36. Moreover, the score on the verbal section of the GRE may not be less than 400.
6. Only “Regular” admission status is to be used for entry to an Education Specialist Program; graduate work taken prior to admission to an Education Specialist Program will not be counted toward the degree requirements.

Recommendation Guidelines for Admission

- 40+ points = Regular Admission
- 30-39 = Admit by Exception
- below 30 = Reject

College of Education Requirements in addition to University Requirements for Retention and Graduation

1. Only “Regular” admission status is to be used for entry into an Education Specialist Program.
2. The maximum time allowed for completion of the Ed.S. degree is seven calendar years. No work completed more than seven years prior to degree completion will be accepted toward the degree, except with special permission from the student’s major professor and the Dean of the College of Education and approval from the Dean of the Graduate School.
3. No more than 6 semester hours of academic work may be transferred from another institution into a COE graduate program. This credit must be presented to the department for evaluation at the time of admission.

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION (Ed.D.) DEGREE PROGRAM

The doctorate of education (Ed.D) is an advanced program of study based upon the assumption that an interdisciplinary curriculum can serve as the primary intellectual framework for investigating, understanding, and affecting the broad range of academic, social, economic, and cultural issues and pressures facing modern education. The degrees offered are as follows:

Department of Adult and Career Education

Ed.D. Adult and Vocational Education

Department of Curriculum and Instructional Technology

Ed.D. Curriculum and Instruction

Department of Educational Leadership

Ed.D. Educational Leadership

College of Education Requirements in addition to University Requirements for Admission (Ed.D)

1. Students may contact the department in which the major portion of the work will be taken before making formal application for admission.
2. Students may not apply for more than one program area.
3. Formal applications are obtained from, and submitted directly to, the Graduate School for initial evaluation.
4. A Program Area Admissions Committee of at least three faculty members in each department participating in the program will review the credentials of each applicant. This committee will make recommendations concerning acceptance or rejection on the basis of the minimum general admission requirements. Candidates considered for admission recommendation by this Committee will be required to appear before the Committee for an oral interview before final decisions are made.
5. The recommendation of the Program Area Admissions Committee will be sent to the Doctoral Coordinating Committee which will make the final decisions concerning admission to the program.
6. Applicants will be notified by letter by the Graduate School of the decision of the Doctoral Coordinating Committee.
7. If a student is admitted to the program, enrolls, and subsequently withdraws during the coursework, then the student must apply for readmission to begin in the next cohort at the same point as the initial withdrawal.

Minimum admission requirements have been established for the Doctor of Education Degree program. Applicants meeting these requirements will be considered for admission to the program; however, meeting the minimum requirements does not assure admission. Final admission decisions for the program will be made by the Doctoral Admissions Committee, co-chaired by the Dean of the Graduate School and the Dean of the College of Education.

1. The applicant must have completed a Master's Degree at an accredited or approved institution. In addition, Educational Leadership majors must hold a leadership certificate.
2. The applicant must have completed three years or more of acceptable school or related agency experience.
3. The applicant must have at least a 3.5 grade-point average (on a 4.0 scale) for all graduate work attempted.
4. The applicant must submit GRE scores, with a minimum combined score of 1000 on the verbal and either quantitative or analytical sections of the GRE general test.
5. Exceptionally motivated students who have a GRE combined scores of 900 to 999 on the verbal and either quantitative or analytical sections of the GRE general test, and/or a 3.25 to 3.49 grade-point average (on a 4.0 scale) on all graduate work attempted, may petition the Dean of the Graduate School for admission by exception. Applicants with GRE scores below 900 or with a grade-point average on all graduate work attempted below 3.25 will not be considered for admission.
6. The applicant must complete a full set of application forms as required by the Graduate School.
7. The applicant must submit three recommendations from persons who can assess the applicant's professional qualifications and potential for successfully completing the program.
8. The applicant must submit a letter of support from his or her school district or institution.
9. The applicant must arrange for official transcripts from all colleges previously attended to be furnished to the Graduate School.
10. The applicant must submit the following to be evaluated for content and writing quality: Responses should be in paragraph format and are limited to no more than 5 double-spaced pages.
 - a. A detailed biographical/career goals statement that addresses: How have you changed as an educator during the last three years? What is the most recent goal you have accomplished? What was the most difficult challenge you have faced in your professional career? How will you use this degree to serve South Georgia?
 - b. A description of readiness for doctoral level research. Include specifics such as dates, courses/workshops, and experiences with SPSS in the description.
 - c. A description of academic and practical experience with technology. Include specifics such as dates and courses/workshops in the description. Name specific software packages and include reference to skill in word processing, databases, spreadsheets. Provide a rationale to justify preparation for utilizing technology at an intermediate to advanced level.

Doctoral Program Degree Requirements for Graduation

The Doctor of Education degree program is a cohort program requiring a minimum of 45 semester hours of coursework over a two-year cycle and a minimum of 9 semester hours of dissertation work. A GPA of 3.25 over all coursework must be maintained for a student to continue in the program. A comprehensive exam must be successfully completed at the end of the second year for a student to enroll in dissertation courses. The academic residency requirements are satisfied upon completion of two consecutive semesters of full-time coursework.

GRADUATE ADMISSION APPEALS PROCESS

Any applicant who is denied admission to a graduate program in the College of Education has the right to appeal the decision. There are two levels of appeal within the College of Education: (1) the departmental level, and (2) the college level.

Departmental Appeal

Each department within the College of Education has an Appeals Committee. By contacting the department, a student can determine who chairs the departmental Appeals Committee. Student should contact the departmental Appeals Committee chair to find out what steps to take to appeal their being denied admission into a graduate program. These steps may include, but are not limited to, the following: letters of recommendation, in-house writing samples, scores from other standardized tests, interviews, etc. A student who is denied admission by the departmental Appeals Committee may appeal to the College of Education Graduate Policies Committee.

College Appeal

The College of Education maintains a Graduate Policies Committee. The Committee is comprised of one representative from each of the eight departments within the College of Education. One of the primary functions of this committee is to hear appeals of students who have been denied admission to a College of Education graduate program through the initial application process and through the departmental appeals process. The Committee meets once a semester. The Graduate School can supply dates of the Committee's meetings and the name of the faculty member who chairs this committee. Students who wish to appeal to the College of Education Graduate Policies Committee should follow the steps outlined:

Appeal Procedures

1. Student must have been rejected by the departmental appeals committee.
2. Student must obtain and complete the appeals form. The form is available from the Graduate School and should be returned to the Graduate School when it is completed.
3. Student must report scores from at least two attempts to post acceptable scores on the GRE. The scores must be stated on the appeal form and must be verified by the Graduate School.
4. Student must submit three letters of recommendation for graduate study. One letter should come from the student's immediate supervisor, and at least one other letter should come from a former instructor who can attest to the student's academic ability. The letters should be submitted with the appeal form.
5. Student must write a letter to the Graduate Policies Committee stating reasons why the committee should favorably consider his/her request for admission and outlining reasons why he/she wishes to pursue graduate study. This letter should also be submitted with the appeal form.
6. All appeals materials must be submitted to the Graduate School at least one week before the scheduled meeting of the Graduate Policies Committee.
7. All students who wish to appeal have the right to appear before the Graduate Policies Committee and state their cases in person. Students must contact the Chairperson of the Graduate Policies Committee to make an appointment with the committee if they wish to appear in person.
8. The decision of the committee concerning each student's appeal will be communicated to the Dean of the College of Education and to the Dean of the Graduate School by the Chairperson of the Graduate Policies Committee.
9. The Dean of the Graduate School will notify each student, in writing, of the decision of the Graduate Policies Committee within approximately one week following the committee's meeting.

ADDITIONAL EDUCATION DEGREES

Other education degrees offered in cooperation with departments outside the COE are listed below. Information related to these degrees may be found in the bulletin section of the respective departments.

Department of Art, College of The Arts

M.A.E. with a major in Art Education

Department of Music, College of the Arts

M.M.E. with a major in Music Education

Department of Modern and Classical Languages, College of Arts and Sciences

DEPARTMENT OF ADULT AND CAREER EDUCATION

Dr. Donnie J. McGahee, Head
Room 215, Education Center

The Department of Adult and Career Education offers graduate programs of study at the master's, specialist's, and doctoral levels. The department offers a Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree program with a major in Business Education, as well as a Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree program with a major in Adult and Vocational Education, with options in Technical, Trade, and Industrial Education and in Training and Development. At the specialist's level, the department offers the Education Specialist (Ed.S.) degree program with a major in Vocational Education, with options in Business Education and in General Vocational Education. At the doctoral level, the department offers the Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) degree program with a major in Adult and Vocational Education.

The graduate programs within the Department of Adult and Career Education are designed to build upon the knowledge, skills, and values developed at the undergraduate level. The content of the coursework is designed to present specific information that will prepare students to serve as professional educators and educational leaders in various educational settings at a higher level of competency than those professionals without graduate degrees. Students are provided opportunities to research situations in the field and to apply concepts covered to actual teaching and program development.

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION WITH A MAJOR IN ADULT AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Adult and Vocational Education

The Adult and Vocational Education major provides advanced, professional training for individuals pursuing careers in teaching and administration of vocational and related fields. The program prepares students for working with adult learners and special needs students in vocational fields at the secondary and postsecondary levels.

Selected Educational Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate the ability to engage in focused inquiry by researching a topic, evaluating relevant literature, writing a comprehensive dissertation, and presenting the results of their study.
2. Students will demonstrate the ability to contribute to the body of knowledge in their field by writing an article for publication.
3. Students will demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the knowledge, research, and theories appropriate to their major field by completing a comprehensive examination.

Examples of Outcome Assessments

1. The process of developing the dissertation and the results of the dissertation are assessed by a faculty committee using criteria approved at the program level.
2. As part of the course requirements in their major coursework, students will be required to write an article in their field for publication. The article will be reviewed by a faculty committee before it is submitted to a professional publication.
3. Students will successfully develop written responses to a comprehensive examination that requires the application of information gained from a series of courses. Written responses will be graded by a team of faculty members.

DEPARTMENT OF CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Dr. Catherine Price, Head
Room 136, Education Center

The mission of the Department of Curriculum and Instructional Technology is to develop practitioners who are knowledgeable and skilled in improving instructional systems in educational institutions and other organizations. To accomplish its mission, the Department offers three graduate programs: the Ed.D. degree with a major in curriculum and instruction, and the M.Ed. and Ed.S. degrees with a major in instructional technology.

Curriculum and Instruction is a specialization designed for experienced practitioners and emphasizes development of a global understanding of the instructional process. The interrelated courses and guided experiences are based on a constructivist philosophy and are sequenced to develop student understanding of effective instructional systems and student application of theoretical foundations in curriculum and instruction. Course projects require doctoral students to research, design, develop, implement, evaluate, and disseminate innovative educational practices in a variety of learning environments.

The Instructional Technology Masters degree accepts qualified graduates from all disciplines and has two options: Library Media Technology and Technology Applications. The Library Media Technology program prepares students to be school media specialists and qualifies the graduate for Georgia S-5 certification. The Technology Applications program prepares students to be technology coordinators or instructional developers in a variety of contexts: business/industry, government/military service, health fields, and schools.

The Ed. S. program emphasizes leadership development and applied research skills in Instructional Technology practice and prepares students to meet present and future technological challenges within an educational organization. The program accepts qualified graduate students from all disciplines and has two options: Technology Leadership and Initial Library/Media Technology certification. The latter option is for professionally certified personnel who seek initial certification as a school media specialist. It is expected that students entering either option will have at least three years of related work experience.

Instructional technology is the theory and practice of design, development, utilization, management, and evaluation of processes and resources for learning (AECT, 1994).

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION WITH A MAJOR IN CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

The Curriculum and Instruction major is designed for experienced practitioners in a variety of instructional fields. The program provides opportunities for students to relate theoretical foundations to curricular and instructional issues facing schools, school systems, higher education, and other educational agencies.

Selected Educational Outcomes

1. Students will initiate, manage, and evaluate the change process.
2. Students will design, develop, and evaluate curricula with considerations for philosophical, sociological, and historical foundations; community needs, values, and goals; and changing conditions.
3. Students will establish an interdisciplinary, research-based approach to the investigation and solution of educational problems.

Examples of Outcome Assessments

1. Students will demonstrate skills in initiating, managing, and evaluating the change process through documentation of various components of their curriculum innovation projects. Students' skills are assessed through project documentation and observation by a faculty team.
2. Students will demonstrate skills in designing, developing, and evaluating curricula with specified considerations in their curriculum innovation projects which address identified needs in their workplace. Students' skills are assessed through project documentation and observation by a faculty team.
3. Students' research skills are assessed through the comprehensive exam and the dissertation which are both rated by a faculty committee.

MASTER OF EDUCATION WITH A MAJOR IN INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Selected Educational Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate commitment to professional development and improvement of performance.
2. Students will access, analyze, interpret, synthesize, and communicate information and ideas.
3. Students will employ and model effective use of instructional technology in diverse settings.
4. Students will work efficiently, effectively, and cooperatively as leaders and members of teams and groups.

Examples of Outcome Assessments

1. At the beginning of the program, students will articulate their initial goals and delineate professional development opportunities within the context of instructional technology in a career development plan. At the end of the program, they will again articulate goals, and describe, document and reflect upon their professional development during the program in their capstone professional portfolios.
2. Students' information skills are demonstrated throughout the program and are assessed by faculty observation and by documentation in the capstone professional portfolio. Evidence of effective access, utilization and evaluation of information for both print and electronic resources is required.
3. Students' technology skills are assessed throughout the program by faculty observation and by documentation in the capstone professional portfolio. Evidence of electronic communication, technology presentations, and use of production and instructional software is required.
4. Students demonstrate their collaborative efforts through reports, field-based projects, and presentations throughout the program. They are assessed by direct observation of college faculty and by documentation in the professional portfolio.

DEPARTMENT OF EARLY CHILDHOOD AND READING EDUCATION

Dr. Albert S. Gibbs, Head
Room 56, Education Center

Degrees

The Department of Early Childhood and Reading Education offers the Master of Education and Education Specialist degrees in Early Childhood Education as well as a Georgia Reading Endorsement.

Description

These nationally accredited degree programs are designed to build upon the professional base of knowledge developed from the undergraduate curriculum. Candidates are expected to refine this base, developing abilities to deal with more of the intricate aspects of the teaching experience. The Education Specialist degree programs emphasize the development of change agents who can assume a leadership role in the fields of early childhood and reading education.

MASTER OF EDUCATION WITH A MAJOR IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION, P-3 OPTION

Selected Educational Outcomes

1. Graduates will demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the knowledge, research, and dominant theories of child development and learning and the application of these to the teaching of young children.
2. Graduates will demonstrate an understanding of the knowledge and skills appropriate to the areas of research, learning, educational assessment, ethics, and law.
3. Graduates will use knowledge of young children to develop learning environments which address the intellectual, social, emotional, physical, and cultural needs of all young children.
4. Graduates will develop and implement formal and informal assessment procedures to assess child development and learning, educational environments, and curricula for all young children.

Outcome Assessments

1. Graduates will develop written responses to questions for comprehensive examinations that require the application of information gained from a series of courses. Written responses will be graded by teams of faculty members. Successful completion of the comprehensive examinations is required.
2. Graduates will successfully complete the College of Education master's-level core curriculum with a grade of "B" or above.
3. Graduates will develop portfolios which includes examples of teaching plans and documentation of appropriate learning environments. Portfolios will be assessed by teams of faculty members.
4. Graduates will submit evidence of assessment plans and results in summative portfolios which will be assessed by teams of faculty members.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Dr. Gerald Siegrist, Head
Room 67, Education Building

The Department of Educational Leadership offers programs that lead to a Master's degree (M. Ed.) in Educational Leadership with a major in either Public School Leadership or in Higher Education Leadership, to an Educational Specialist degree (Ed.S.) in Educational Leadership, and to the Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) with a concentration in Educational Leadership.

The mission of the Department of Educational Leadership is to provide quality instruction, research, and service to prospective and practicing leaders in the university's service region and beyond. In particular, the department's Master's degree programs are designed to provide students with the basic knowledge, skills, and values to perform competently at entry-level positions of educational leadership roles at either the building and system level or at the higher education level. Students who complete the Educational Specialist degree will be equipped with advanced knowledge and skills to perform competently as professionals in educational leadership. The Doctoral program is intended to prepare students to assume active leadership roles. In all degree programs, an emphasis is placed on ethical decision-making and leadership for change. Programs offered by the Department of Educational Leadership are fully accredited by NCATE (masters and specialist) or by SACS (doctoral).

MASTER OF EDUCATION WITH A MAJOR IN PUBLIC SCHOOL LEADERSHIP

Selected Educational Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and attributes involved in the design of appropriate curricula and instructional programs.
2. Students will demonstrate the ability to integrate theoretical and practical applications of organizational development and leadership practice by writing a major paper and presenting an oral report.
3. Students will demonstrate knowledge and skills associated with the selection, induction, orientation, evaluation, staff development, retention, and dismissal of school personnel.
4. Students will write and present a major project which encompasses elements of the fiscal and operational components of school budgeting, purchasing, accounting, auditing, inventory control, security, custodial services, transportation, facilities management, and child nutrition.
5. Students will demonstrate knowledge and skills in providing educational environments in which children can learn.

Examples of Outcome Assessments

1. Students will write a curriculum project appropriate for their work level that will be assessed on the criteria developed by the professor.
2. The oral report and major paper will be assessed through peer review and by the professor.
3. Students will be assessed through activities that include oral presentations, interviewing techniques, and written reports. Projects, class activities, and papers will be evaluated through peer review and/or by the professor work.
4. Written projects and oral presentations will be evaluated using criteria developed by the professor.
5. Internship activities will be assessed by one or more faculty members.

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION WITH A CONCENTRATION IN SCHOOL LEADERSHIP

The Educational Leadership major seeks to develop effective, ethical, and diverse educational leaders whose goal is to maximize all students’ achievement. Skill applications serve as the connection between the knowledge and inquiry skills developed in the core curriculum and research courses and the increasingly complex world of restructured practice and school improvement.

Selected Educational Outcomes

Each program in this department has numerous desired outcomes. Examples of these outcomes include:

1. The educational leader will initiate, plan, manage, and articulate the change process in educational and educationally related settings.
2. The educational leader initiates needs assessments and plans and implements with staff a framework for change.
3. The educational leader identifies and evaluates the important elements of a problem situation by analyzing relevant information, framing problems, identifying possible causes, seeking additional needed information, framing and reframing possible solutions, and by exhibiting conceptual flexibility. These outcomes are accomplished in a doctoral dissertation.

Examples of Outcome Assessments

Using a variety of techniques, faculty members in the department will assess the extent to which the students achieve the desired outcomes.

1. Students will develop a plan for change in educational and educationally related settings. Students' educational change plan will be assessed by faculty members.
2. Students will report the results of a need assessment focusing on an appropriate leadership problem. Students' needs assessment report will be assessed by faculty members.
3. Students will orally defend a doctoral dissertation that is grounded in, and that expands upon the existing literature. A Dissertation Committee will determine successful completion of this outcome.

DEPARTMENT OF KINESIOLOGY AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Dr. Hemming Atterbom
Room 168, Physical Education Complex

The Master of Education degree program in the Department of Kinesiology and Physical Education offers two options. Option I allows students to specialize in Health and Physical Education and qualify for the Georgia T-5 (professional) teaching certificate. Option II permits students to concentrate their studies in an area of specialization (Exercise Science, Sports Medicine) without seeking teacher certification.

Program Description

Option I (the teacher certification option) leads to the Georgia T-5 (professional) teaching certificate. The program focuses on building advanced pedagogical concepts, exploring unique teaching skills, and enhancing professional practices in the area of Health and Physical Education. The program is approved and accredited by the National Council on Accreditation for Teacher Education (NCATE) and by the National Association of Sport and Physical Education (NASPE).

Option II (the non-teacher certification option) allows students who do not seek teacher certification the opportunity for graduate study in the Department. With this option, students may prepare for careers in the health fitness industry, cardiac rehabilitation programs, sports medicine clinics, YMCA/YWCA centers, etc.

Admission Requirements

All applicants for admission to any graduate program at Valdosta State University must first submit a completed application to the Graduate School. DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY AND COUNSELING

Dr. Robert E. L. Bauer, Head
Psychology and Counseling Office Building

The Department of Psychology and Counseling provides programs of study at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. At the undergraduate level, the department offers B.A. and B.S. degrees with a major in psychology.

At the graduate level, the department offers the M.S. Degree in Clinical/Counseling or Industrial/Organizational Psychology. Graduates are prepared to perform services in mental health settings, businesses, community colleges, government or industries, which require graduate training in psychology at the subdoctoral level.

The department also offers programs leading to the M.Ed. and Ed.S. degrees in a major in school counseling and the Ed.S. degree with a major in school psychology. These programs train and endorse students specifically for employment in the public school setting. Students in these programs are required to satisfy all Georgia Professional Standards Commission requirements for certification as a component part of the degree programs. These programs are approved by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission and the College of Education is accredited by the National Council For Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). The Ed.S. program with a major in school psychology is also approved by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP).

Department faculty instruct courses and serve on doctoral committees for students enrolled in the College of Education doctoral programs. An endorsement program leading to certification as Director of Pupil Personnel Services is also offered. All department faculty hold the doctorate. Information concerning these programs, their admission requirements (which differ by degree program), continuing education, and other services offered by the department can be obtained by contacting the department.

MASTER OF SCIENCE WITH A MAJOR IN CLINICAL/COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY

The faculty serves the citizens of the region and state by offering instruction and services designed to improve the quality of life. Students are prepared to work in community counseling and mental health centers. The faculty offers individualized training to assure the public of qualified, responsible, and appropriately credentialed individuals who provide assessment, consultation and counseling. Students interested in pursuing further training and education in clinical/counseling psychology are given a solid foundation for efforts to achieve other related advanced degrees.

Departmental Requirements in addition to University Admission Requirements

Admission to the program requires 15 semester hours of undergraduate psychology courses appropriate to the graduate major.

Selected Educational Outcomes

1. Students will be able to use the scientific method to critically evaluate research methodology, statistics, and conclusions in current clinical/counseling psychology literature.
2. Students will demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the knowledge, research and theories appropriate to the M.S. in Clinical/Counseling Psychology by developing written responses to program questions.
3. Students will demonstrate the ability to integrate information from several sources (e.g., testing, interviews, etc.) by writing appropriate assessment reports and intervention plans.

Outcome Assessments

1. Students will be assessed on their ability to write and present research evaluations in several courses, including research design and analysis.
2. Students will successfully develop written responses to Comprehensive Examination questions that require the application of the knowledge gained from a series of courses. The written responses will be graded by a committee of faculty.
3. Students' written assessment reports and intervention plans will be assessed in practicum experiences by their practicum and faculty supervisors.

DEPARTMENT OF SPECIAL EDUCATION AND COMMUNICATION DISORDERS

Dr. Philip Gunter, Head
Special Education and Communication Disorders Building

The Department of Special Education and Communication Disorders is a multidisciplinary department with a program that leads to the Educational Specialist Degree with a major in Special Education with options for concentration in General Special Education and Communication Disorders and the Masters of Education (M.Ed.) degree with a major in Special Education or Communication Disorders.

The Education Specialist (Ed.S.) program in the Special Education was developed for practicing special educators and speech/language pathologists who wish to upgrade their professional skills, primarily focusing on those who wish to pursue leadership positions. Information and skills acquired and developed at the undergraduate and masters level are specifically designed for and focused on the provision of services. The Ed.S. program focuses on information and skills required of professionals in becoming effective leaders and problem-solvers within a variety of settings.

The M.Ed. degrees with majors in Special Education and Communication Disorders are designed to allow students to practice use of knowledge from preprofessional degrees while continuing to gain information regarding effective interventions for students with diverse needs. Students also concentrate on self-reflection regarding intervention effectiveness using available research to guide practice. Advanced programs include the study of research methods and findings so students become knowledgeable consumers of research data and are prepared to engage in research activities. These programs compliment the primary focus of the mission of the COE by expanding professionals' skills as well as encouraging them to engage in the pursuit of research and service.

Within the Special Education area students have five options: mild disabilities, mental retardation, early childhood/special education, interrelated special education/early childhood, or deaf and hard-of-hearing. The degrees in these five areas and in communication disorders allow graduates to be awarded certification for public school instruction or licensure for private practice.

EDUCATION SPECIALIST DEGREE WITH A MAJOR IN SPECIAL EDUCATION

Selected Educational Outcomes

Students think systematically about practices and learn from experience through

1. expanding abilities and experiences which lead to making appropriate informed judgments.
2. performing and using educational research that provides information required for effective problem solving.
3. collaborating with professionals, families and members of the learning community in order to solve problems and taking advantage of national, state, and local resources available to enhance services.

Outcome Assessments

Graduates will:

1. demonstrate content knowledge and critical thinking skills through successful completion of written examinations and oral presentations.
2. successfully complete projects which indicate that they can perform and use educational research and national, state, and local resources for effective problem solving and enhancement of services in collaboration with professionals, families, and members of the learning community.
3. answer a research question and share that information through a completed thesis and presentation.
