Welcome from the Dean

Dear Graduate Student,

Congratulations on your appointment as a graduate assistant at Valdosta State University!

Graduate assistants play a critical role in supporting the mission of VSU. Graduate assistants support the delivery of quality instruction in the core curriculum through our lecture as well as laboratory courses. Graduate assistants also support the upper-division courses that inculcate the research and inquiry skills that prepare our students to succeed in their majors. Furthermore, graduate assistants help to advance the research mission of VSU as you work alongside our faculty on exciting and innovative research projects.

As I reflect on my own graduate assistantship, I began with leading study groups for a large section of Introduction to American Government and then ultimately had the opportunity to teach my own section of the course. A graduate assistantship also provided me with research opportunities that resulted in conference presentations and peer-reviewed publications with a faculty mentor. These experiences were invaluable and shaped my career path. We want you to be very successful in your graduate assistantship at VSU. Your graduate assistantship involves the dual responsibilities of maintaining satisfactory academic performance with a GPA of at least 3.0 as well as successfully performing the duties assigned to you by your supervisor.

This handbook is intended to be a general guide to help you better understand your appointment as a graduate assistant at VSU. Although the information presented in this handbook is current at the time of publication, future changes may be necessary. When such changes occur, we will update you and your supervisor in a timely manner.

If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions concerning graduate assistantships, you may contact the Graduate Assistant Coordinator (Ms. Michelle Jordan) in the Graduate School at 222-333-5694 or by email at sojordan@valdosta.edu.

Sincerely,

James T. LaPlant

Your New Employer

Valdosta State University: A Brief History

A special act of the Georgia Legislature established an institution of higher learning in Valdosta, Georgia, in 1906. However, no appropriation was made for buildings and maintenance until the summer of 1911, when the state appropriated $30,000 for one building and equipment.

With a community enthusiasm that has continued, the City of Valdosta donated 60 acres and $50,000 to be used toward the establishment of the campus. The first building, Converse Hall, was erected and furnished at a cost of $55,000.

In 1912, the Legislature granted an adequate annual appropriation for maintenance, and the future of the institution was assured. The college, called the South Georgia State Normal College, opened to “young ladies” on January 1, 1913, offering two years of university work.

An act of the Legislature in 1922 changed the name to Georgia State Women’s College at Valdosta and authorized a four-year program leading to the bachelor’s degree.

The Board of Regents made the college co-educational in 1950 and changed the name to Valdosta State College.

On July 1, 1993, Valdosta State College became a Regional University within the University System of Georgia and was renamed Valdosta State University.

The institution has been led by nine presidents: Richard Holmes Powell (1913-1933), Jere Madison Pound (1933-1935), Frank Robertson Reade (1935-1948), James Ralph Thaxton (1948-1966), Sidney Walter Martin (1966-1978), Hugh Coleman Bailey (1978-2001), Ronald M. Zaccari (2002-2008), Patrick J. Schloss (2008-2012), and William J. McKinney (2012-present).

Equal Opportunity Employer

VSU employs graduate assistants of the highest quality available based on ability, experience, training, intelligence, character, and physical fitness according to the needs of the university departments. No applicant for graduate assistantship otherwise qualified for employment will be excluded based on race, color, sex, age, religion, creed, physical handicap, or National origin, or sexual orientation of the individual. The Office of Social Equity is a good resource for knowing your rights. Please contact:

Social Equity Office

1208 North Patterson St.
Valdosta, GA 31698
229.333.5463

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

VSU is governed by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia, which specifically prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability. VSU is committed to complying with the goals and objectives of the Americans with Disabilities Act. Persons needing accommodations should contact the Access Office located between Langdale and Georgia Residence Halls. For more information call 229.245.2498 or email access@valdosta.edu

Mission Statement

VSU’s graduate assistantships are designed to promote the teaching/instruction, research, and service responsibilities of the university and to provide students with valuable professional development opportunities while earning a graduate degree. Therefore, the graduate assistantship involves the dual responsibilities of maintaining satisfactory academic performance and successfully performing the duties assigned to you by your supervisor.

Hiring and Orientation

Application Portal

In order to be eligible for a graduate assistantship, a student must be admitted to VSU as a degree-seeking graduate student under “regular” or “probationary” status before the student is allowed to apply for a graduate assistantship.

Students may apply through the graduate assistant application portal at: www.valdosta.edu/gradschool/graduate-assistantships.php. Students may apply for more than one assistantship.

Departments have access to applications online and will review applications, decide who will be interviewed, and to whom they will offer assistantships. Assistantships are limited and students who apply are not guaranteed an assistantship. It is recommended that students apply for any and all other types of financial aid.

Criminal Background Checks

If awarded an assistantship, please be aware that all new graduate assistants are required to complete a background check. Upon accepting a graduate assistantship, the student should complete a State of Georgia Background Check Consent Form. Graduate assistants may not begin employment until the background check has been returned with an “eligible” determination and an I-9 has been completed.

Orientation

The Graduate School will hold an orientation and paperwork session each semester. Attendance is mandatory for all newly hired graduate assistants.

These sessions will cover:

- Completion of Payroll Forms
- Basic Information Concerning Assistantships
- Blazeview & Clickers Training
- Campus Excellence (Customer Service)
- University Compliance Training Modules
 - Right To Know Basic Awareness Training
 - Motor Vehicle Training – Auto Liability Insurance
 - Georgia Open Records Act
 - Federal Education Rights And Privacy Act (FERPA)
- Library Resources

Your Graduate Assistantship

Academic Responsibility

As a graduate assistant of the university, you should view your employment as secondary to academics. Although your employment can be a meaningful part of your university experience, it should not interfere with or be detrimental to your academic studies.

You should consult with your supervisor if your workload or schedule creates a problem with your academics. Most departments will work with you to rearrange or reduce work schedules around heavy academic commitments such as final examinations.

Appearance

Graduate assistants are expected to dress appropriately for the type of assistantship they hold. Some departments may have a specific dress code to follow. The graduate school provides the following established guidelines for student dress:

- Shoes must be worn at all times.
- Shirts are required at all times.
- If your department allows students to wear shorts, the shorts should be of appropriate length.
- Bathing suits, tube tops, and halter-tops are not allowed, unless required for assigned duties (i.e. Aquatics)

Confidentiality of Student Records

Graduate assistants are required to maintain VSU’s Confidentiality Policy. The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (FERPA), the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPPA), and state and university policies guarantee the security and confidentiality of information maintained by the university. Graduate assistants must protect the privacy and confidentiality of student, faculty, employee, and financial information to which they have access and will use it solely for the performance of their official duties.

Records must be treated confidentially and professionally. Any breach of confidentiality will result in immediate termination and may lead to other penalties.

Follow these guidelines to prevent pressure on yourself concerning access to records.

1. Do not let friends, relatives, or acquaintances know that you have access to confidential data.
2. Do not use computer terminals or files for any purpose other than to perform functions assigned to you by your supervisor.
3. Report to your supervisor anyone’s attempts to gain unauthorized access to information.

Graduate Assistantship References

FERPA restricts the release of certain information to individuals outside the university without a signed consent by the student. This includes some information that would be normally given in a work reference for graduate assistants. Supervisors cannot release information about graduate assistant employment without a specific release. In order for you to use your assistantship as a reference in the future, you must complete a Graduate Assistant Consent for Release of Information.

Drug-Free Workplace Policy

The following are required of the university and its employees:

1. An employee shall notify his or her supervisors or other appropriate management representatives of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five days after such conviction.
2. The university shall notify any federal contracting agency within ten days of having received notice that an employee engaged in the performance of such contract or grant has had a criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace.
3. The university will take appropriate personnel action against any employee who is convicted for a violation occurring in the workplace or will require the employee’s satisfactory participation in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program.

For a complete statement of VSU's Drug-Free Workplace Policy, consult the Student Employment Office website at: <http://services.valdosta.edu/studemp/docs/drugfreepolicy.pdf>.

Email Policy

According to Georgia statutes, email information is defined as a public record. Emails created or received by VSU employees in connection with official business, which perpetuates, communicates or formalizes knowledge, is subject to the public records law and open for inspection.

Giving Notice

A two-week notice is generally considered to be a good business practice, so it is important for you to notify the Graduate School and your supervisor in writing at least two weeks in advance of the last day of your employment if you decide to resign your position. If you are unable to give a two-week notice, it is advised that you consult with your supervisor as soon as you know that you cannot keep your work commitment. If your employment is terminated before the end of the semester, tuition will be pro-rated and you may have a balance due to the Bursary.

Grievance Procedure

VSU encourages informal resolution of grievances and complaints; your immediate supervisor is available to help you resolve any work-related concerns or misunderstandings. If you have addressed issues with your immediate supervisor and do not feel comfortable that the issue has been resolved, you may then seek assistance through the department head, then the Graduate Assistantship Coordinator, and finally the Dean of the Graduate School.

Injuries

If you are injured during working hours, you must notify your immediate supervisor within two hours of the injury. Your immediate supervisor must contact the human resources department (229.333.5709) before you go to an authorized medical provider, unless your injury requires emergency medical care.

Performing Duties Unrelated To Position Description

Graduate assistants may not perform work unrelated to their job description. Examples include: typing personal correspondence, working on projects for a supervisor's non-university business, running personal errands, babysitting, checking personal e-mail, conducting personal Internet searches. This policy does not include the hiring of student services outside of the work environment and paid for with personal funds (i.e., babysitting).

Use Of Office Equipment

Personal use of office equipment and supplies (i.e. computers, telephone, paper, stamps, envelopes) is not allowed during work time or after hours. Office supplies and equipment are to be used for the sole purpose of completing the assigned tasks of the student's position.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is unwanted sexual attention of a persistent or offensive nature made by a person who knows, or reasonably should know, that such attention is unwanted. Sexual Harassment includes sexually oriented conduct that is sufficiently pervasive or severe to unreasonably interfere with an employee's job performance or create an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment. Sexual harassment can be physical and/or psychological in nature. Employees are prohibited from harassing other employees whether or not the incidents of harassment occur on employer premises and whether or not the incident occur during working hours.

Mandatory Grade Point Average

As a graduate assistant, you must maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade-point average. Students whose cumulative grade-point average falls below 3.0 will be terminated.

Mandatory Hours Requirement

As a graduate assistant, you must register and earn credit for six (6) semester hours of graduate course work during each and every semester in which you hold the assistantship.

Completion of FERPA Training is required for all graduate assistants.

Range of Sexual Harassment

1. Physical assaults of a sexual nature.
2. Unwanted sexual advances, propositions or other sexual comments.
3. Preferential treatment or promises of preferential treatment to an employee or student for exchange of sexual conduct.
4. Sexually graphic comments about a person's body
5. Subjecting, or threats of subjecting, an employee to unwelcome sexual attention or conduct.
6. Sexual or discriminatory displays or publications anywhere in the workplace by the employees.
7. Retaliation for sexual harassment complaints.

*Consensual relationships with subordinates (students, employees, mentees, etc.) can lead to termination.

Discipline

Supervisors must act quickly and fairly with allegations of sexual harassment with in their department whether or not there has been a written or formal complaint. Employees who violate this policy are subject to appropriate discipline.

Work Hours

Absences. If you know in advance that you will be late or absent from work, it is your responsibility to notify your supervisor. If something unexpected happens that will make you have to miss work or be late, contact your supervisor to let them know when you expect to return to work.

Scheduling time off. Inform your supervisor in advance if you need to take some time off or change your schedule for any reason. Plan to make up any work you miss.

Rest periods/breaks. Graduate assistants working more than six consecutive hours must take a 30-minute, off the clock, lunch break. Graduate assistants who work four consecutive hours are entitled to and should take a 15-minute rest period.

Working more than one job. Graduate assistants are not permitted to work more than one job on campus.

Holidays and missed work. Graduate assistants are not required to work or make up hours when the university is closed due to holidays, inclement weather, or other breaks as established by VSU. They should make up hours missed due to all other absences.

Late hires. If a graduate assistant is hired after the start of the semester, he or she:

1. Should be expected to make up hours if he or she receives the full stipend
2. Should not be expected to make up hours if the stipend is pro-rated to the start date

Eligible students are required to complete all necessary payroll forms within three days of hire or rehire. (Note: No payment of earnings will be released until all payroll forms are complete and returned to The Graduate School).

The student must complete the criminal background check process (which requires an “eligible” report returned through Human Resources) and an I-9 eligibility form with proper identification(s) before he or she is legally allowed to begin work.

Your Stipend

Graduate Assistant Stipend

Graduate assistants are paid once a month – the last working day of each month. The first paycheck is a paper check and will be mailed to the printed address on the orange Valdosta State University Graduate Assistant Employment Application Form. After the first paycheck, pay is issued through direct deposit which students set up through their initial employment packet.

Time Sheet(s) & ADP

Graduate assistants work an average of 14-20 hours per week based on the department and type of job (number of hours expected is noted on the Graduate Assistant Appointment Form). Graduate assistants are expected to keep a log of hours worked. Graduate assistants are not required to submit time sheets to the Graduate School or Payroll nor are they required to register time worked in ADP Services. Please note that all payroll forms must be signed before any payment of earnings will be released.

Pay stubs and the W-2 are available for viewing via ADP/Shared Services Portal. A graduate assistant can find instructions for registering for the system through the newly hired and current graduate assistants page.

Taxes

All earnings are subject to statutory state and federal income tax regulations. Retirement benefits are not withheld from the stipends of graduate assistants.

Overtime

No overtime is permitted. Graduate assistants may not receive extra compensation for performing other work during the period of their assistantship.

Mandatory Student Health Insurance Program

For information, see the following link: <http://services.valdosta.edu/health/docs/2012-2013studenthealthinsuranceprogram.pdf>

Tuition Waiver

Tuition is reduced in the following manner for both in-state and out-of-state students:

- Fall and Spring semesters: a graduate assistant will receive a tuition waiver after payment of the first $38 in tuition each semester for a total of up to 15 credit hours in the fall and 15 credit hours in the spring semesters. Any additional credits taken will be charged to the graduate assistant at the in-state rate.

- Summer semester: a graduate assistant will receive a tuition waiver after payment of the first $38 in tuition for a total of up to 9 credit hours in the summer semesters (i, ii, iii, and iv). Any additional credits taken will be charged to the graduate assistant at the in-state rate.

Students are also responsible for paying other fees (i.e. athletic, institutional, activity, technology, transportation, health, health center, access card, parking facilities) in addition to health insurance premiums (see Mandatory Student Health Insurance Program below). Students are also responsible for their own living expenses and books. Visit the graduate student fee schedule page http://ww2.valdosta.edu/finadmin/financial/documents/fall2012_grad.pdf for more information.

This $38 in tuition and other fees are set by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents. Students should be sure to pay any remaining fees after the tuition waiver is applied or their classes will be dropped when the fee payment deadline arrives!

Please note: the tuition waiver is not applied to the student's account until after the Graduate Assistant Appointment Form is signed by the graduate assistant and the Dean of the Graduate School. The student is responsible for assuring that all tuition and fees are paid on or before the fee pay deadline regardless of the assistantship. If not paid on time, it is possible that courses will be dropped.

Summer Employment

Graduate assistants are only eligible for a tuition waiver and stipend during the summer term if a summer assistantship position is awarded. Please note that summer assistantships have a separate Graduate Assistant Appointment Form than Fall/Spring assistantships.

Students who are not enrolled in classes during the summer sessions are not eligible to be graduate assistants. If a department chooses to continue the employment of a student who is not enrolled in a summer class, the student must be paid through other types of employment.

Evaluation and Termination

Evaluations

The performance evaluation is an integral part of every employment position. When thoughtful time is invested in the process, evaluations are a valuable tool:

- For the graduate assistant to assist in their professional development
- For the supervisor to provide and receive feedback
- To assist in strengthening the employment environment.

The performance of graduate assistants in their assigned responsibilities is expected to be of the highest quality throughout the term of appointment. It is the responsibility of the supervisor to monitor the work quality and to verify that the required work hours are fulfilled each semester.

Each graduate assistant's performance should be evaluated at least once per year; however, many departments evaluate students each semester. The evaluation will be based on dependability, completion of job expectations, attitude, initiative/leadership, quality of work, and other areas. The student employee and supervisor should meet to discuss the student's job performance.

Disciplinary System

During a departmental orientation, the supervisor should include a discussion of offenses that may result in disciplinary action, and the procedure that will be followed if these offenses occur. Listed below are offenses that may require disciplinary action:

- Excessive Tardiness or Absenteeism
- Absences
- Sloppy or unclean appearance
- Carelessness or lack of attention
- Impolite to fellow employees or public

Supervisors may add or delete from this list to suit their departmental requirements and needs.

The preceding offenses may be subject to the following action:

1. First occurrence—verbal warning
2. Second occurrence—written reprimand
3. Third occurrence—discharge

Termination for Non-Compliance

Graduate assistants must maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade-point average (GPA) for all graduate level coursework (including grades for any courses transferred into the program of study) in order to keep their assistantship. If the GPA drops below 3.0, the assistantship will be terminated. Graduate students must have a 3.0 to graduate, so it is recommended that they stay focused on their coursework and grades.

Graduate assistants must register and earn credit for at least six (6) semester hours of graduate course work during each and every semester in which they hold the assistantship. Students who drop below the 6-hour minimum will be assessed the full amount of tuition and the student's assistantship will be terminated.

Termination

A graduate assistant's employment may be immediately terminated for the following reasons:

- Sexual Harassment or harassment of any kind
- Insubordination
- Theft
- Entering an unauthorized area at any time
- Willful violation of safety regulations
- Continued failure to perform assigned duties
- Negligence
- Falsifying records, reports, or information
- Intoxication or drinking on the job
- Habitual absence or tardiness
- Unauthorized absence from assigned work area
- Willful damaging of equipment or property
- Gambling
- Sleeping while on duty

Note: Termination is based solely on the supervisor's discretion.

Renewal

In order for a graduate assistantship to be renewed, the supervisor must contact the Graduate Assistant Coordinator via e-mail to fill the graduate assistantship. Upon receiving the request, the graduate assistantship coordinator will prepare a Graduate Assistant Appointment Form to be signed by the graduate assistant and the Dean of the Graduate School.

Assistantships are only valid for the dates expressly stated in the Graduate Assistant Appointment Form. Assistantships are not automatically renewed.

Other Employment Opportunities

Federal Work-Study Program (FWSP)

The university participates in the Federal Work-Study Program. Eligible students may work part-time during the academic year. To be placed on FWSP, the student must complete and submit all required financial aid documents to the Valdosta State University Office of Financial Aid. Priority is given to those students who have completed financial aid applications by May 1.

Student Assistant Program

On-campus jobs, financed by the university are also available. Each department has its own funds for this program. Inquiries should be made to the Student Employment Services Office, located in Langdale Hall.

Other Employment

The Job Location and Development Program, administered through the Student Employment Services Office, Langdale Hall, assists students in obtaining part-time employment off-campus.

Library Resources

Odum Library contains the general and research library collections of the university. The building was dedicated in 1972 and named in 1990 for the late Gertrude Gilmer Odum, Professor Emerita Of English. The library is designed to facilitate research and study with open stacks and continuously available assistance from reference librarians. The collection contains over 453,757 bound volumes and over 1,014,000 volumes in microforms, as well as current issues of more than 3,000 magazines, journals, and newspapers. In addition to printed materials, the library has extensive collections of audiovisual, graphic, and machine-readable materials. The library is a Selective Depository of U.S. Government documents and a full depository of Georgia State documents. It also maintains the archives of Contemporary South Georgia History and a Southern History Collection. In addition, it maintains the Fine Arts Materials Center in the Fine Arts Building and the Instructional Materials Center in the Education Center. The Media Center in Odum Library maintains and services a wide variety of audio-visual equipment.

In 2004, two new additions opened, doubling the size of the library and adding an internet cafe, an auditorium, additional computer labs, classrooms, and a new archives section.

Odum Library is connected to GALILEO, which stands for Georgia Library Learning Online, a project sponsored by the Board Of Regents Of The University System Of Georgia. A world wide web-based virtual library, GALILEO provides access to multiple information resources, including secured access to licensed products. Participating institutions may access over 100 databases indexing thousands of periodicals and scholarly journals. Over 2000 journal titles are provided in full-text. Other resources include encyclopedias, business directories, and government publications.

GIL@Valdosta is the online catalog used to find materials (books, periodical titles, videos, and audio cassettes) located in Odum Library. If you are looking for journal, magazine or newspaper articles, please consult the library webpage for an explanation of the various databases available through the library's webpage.
