

Review Procedures for Specialized and Professional Association Accreditation

Accreditation or recognition by specialized and professional associations serves as evidence of the quality of VSU's academic programs and faculty. To ensure that reaffirmations have input from many stakeholders and adequate preparation and review time, academic program coordinators are encouraged to follow these general procedures.

