Proposed Changes to the University Tenure and Promotion Document Spring 2018

The proposed changes have been approved by the University Tenure and Promotion Committee (UTPC) as well as the Deans' Council. Most of the changes simply reflect upcoming organizational changes at VSU or include language from the BOR which already governs our tenure and promotion decisions. The following is a brief justification for each change:

1.2 Committee Membership (pages 1-2)

The position of Dean of the Graduate School will become the Associate Provost for Graduate Studies. To provide stable leadership for the chair of the UTPC and to keep the review process independent of the Provost's office, the proposal is to have the Dean of the Honors College serve as the chair of the UTPC. The Dean of the Honors College is independent of all the tenure and promotion reviews in the various academic colleges and can facilitate the work of the UTPC. With the College of Arts and Sciences splitting into the College of Science and Mathematics as well as the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, the language at the bottom of page one and top of page 2 reflects this organizational change. Two UTPC members will serve from the College of Sciences. The College of Humanities and Social Sciences will have slightly more faculty than the College of Education and Human Services (COEHS). COEHS will have two UTPC members under the proposed changes to reflect the number of faculty and balance with the other colleges.

3.1.2 Table 1 (page 6)

VSU has promoted faculty who are not in a tenure-track position. The highlighted language in the first two columns of Table 1 simply reflects what has been the institutional practice of promotion of non-tenure track faculty to various ranks. These cells are currently blank in our document. "Completed" has been added to Table 1 to clarify the minimum number of years required in rank prior to promotion to the next rank.

3.2.2 C General Guidelines for Dossier Documents (page 11)

Some academic colleges at VSU prohibit any additional materials from being added to the dossier by the candidate once it is submitted to the department at the beginning of the process. Other academic colleges allow materials to be added by the candidate after review by the departmental committee or even after review by the college committee. The UTPC has suggested consistency across our colleges and the language proposed in this section attempts to address this inconsistency and potential procedural due process error in how we review dossiers.

3.4 Extension of the Tenure Probationary Period Due to Family Medical Event (pages 11-12)

VSU faculty have requested to go "off the tenure clock" but we have no language in our university document to address such requests. The language at the bottom of page 11 comes from the University System of Georgia.

The language at the top of page 12 addresses those cases where a faculty member has gone "off the tenure clock" but subsequently requests to have that time counted as years of service towards a tenure action. The practice at VSU has been to deny such requests which would be codified in the proposed language.

3.6 Maximum Time that May Be Served in Full-time Instructional Appointments (page 12)

This language comes directly from the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia.
