Minutes of October 19, 2006
[Members and visitors present]

The Valdosta State University Faculty Senate meeting convened at 3:30 p.m. in the University Center Magnolia Room.

R. Zaccari called the meeting to order and informed the Faculty Senate of the following:

♦ President Zaccari updated the senate on the proposed Health Sciences and Business Administration Center as well as the North Campus Master Plan. VSU has 12 acres on the corner of Ashley Street and Pendleton Drive. VSU is assessing the current structures on the property and plans to demolish the old warehouse (white wooden structure) as well as the greenhouse. The storage yard will also be removed from north campus area. The new Center, dining facilities, and a 600-bed residence hall are planned for the corner of Ashley and Pendleton. VSU and SGMC are discussing forming a partnership to share a parking deck which would be located across from the Center on Pendleton Drive. This parking deck would be used by VSU’s faculty and staff, as well as the staff at SGMC. VSU and SGMC would ask that the parking deck be included as part of the next SPLOST vote in 2007. Additionally, it has been proposed that VSU and SGMC share a Health Clinic building, which would be located on the south side of the proposed parking deck. The academic programs that will be located on north campus are Nursing, Social Work, Marriage & Family Therapy, Communication Disorders, Sports Medicine/Athletic Training, Exercise Physiology and Business Administration.

R. Zaccari turned the meeting over to Christine James. Christine noted two changes to the minutes of the September meeting: 1) Section 3, Item “f-4” should indicate that Betty Paulk will discuss the LibQUAL study and 2) Section 4, Item “a” will indicate that revision of the statutes has been taken under advisement and will be discussed further during the October 19th Faculty Senate meeting. Christine James read the list of proxies.

2. Approval of the minutes of the September 21, 2006 meeting of the Faculty Senate.

a. Report from the Academic Committee – Louis Levy
   (See Appendix A.)

Louis Levy made a motion to approve the minutes of the academic committee meeting. The motion was approved. He mentioned that the Doctorate of Public Administration degree should be acted upon during this academic year. The full proposal for an undergraduate degree in Dance is almost ready for submission and the final draft of the letters of intent for a Ph.D. in Social Work, a Ph.D. in Communication Disorders, and a master’s degree in Communication Arts are being prepared.

b. Report from the Committee on Committees – Jay Rickman

The following four faculty members received the most votes in the election and will now serve 3-year terms on the Grievance Committee (2006-09).

Bartholomew, Sarah
Kinney, Jane
Lazari, Andreas
Yontz, Elaine

A motion was made to approve the election results. The motion was approved.

c. Report from the Institutional Planning Committee – James LaPlant

No report.

c. Report from the Faculty Affairs Committee – Marty Williams

The committee met on September 28th and agreed to pursue writing the committee by-laws.

d. Report from the Faculty Grievance Committee – Stephen Lahr

No report.

e. Report from the Senate Executive Secretary – Christine James

(1) Betty Paulk’s presentation on the LibQual Study

Betty Paulk, Associate University Librarian, informed the senate that Odum Library will be conducting the LibQUAL survey in November. This is a web-based survey that measures library service quality. LibQUAL evolved from the SERVQUAL instrument, which is a tool used for assessing service quality in the private business sector. For several years, Texas A&M Libraries used a modified SERVQUAL instrument to assess their service quality. Realizing the need for a new tool that would better serve library requirements, Texas A&M Libraries partnered with the Association of Research Libraries to develop, test and refine what is now known as the LibQUAL instrument. Hundreds of libraries have participated in the survey including colleges, universities, health science libraries, law libraries and public libraries. LibQUAL is being used in libraries throughout the world including North America, Europe, Africa and Australia.

While the survey has 22 core questions, consortia are given the opportunity to add five local questions. VSU is participating in the survey as a member of the Georgia Consortia of the University System Libraries and the five consortia questions will relate to GALILEO. The 27 core questions will measure service quality in three dimensions: Information Control, Library as Place, and Affect of Service. The Association of Research Libraries will receive the results of the web-based survey and will report the results of the survey in a series of tables, charts and graphs.

Dr. Paulk encouraged everyone to participate in the survey which will open on November 6 and take approximately 15 minutes to complete. Emails will be sent to student, staff, and faculty listservs and will include the survey url. The Library will use the results of this survey to enhance and improve services.

(2) ORP contribution changes updates:
Human Resources information from the state system office:
http://www.ohr.gatech.edu/Departmental%20Folders/Benefits_web/ORP%20Rate%20Change%20BOR.doc AAUP has attended a meeting with Chancellor Davis, which was very productive, and plans are underway for forums on the VSU campus. AAUP leaders on our campus are Dennis Bogyo and Peggy Moch. VSU and AAUP are interested in suggestions on the future frameworks for equity plans between the ORP and TRS. Dennis Bogyo has announced the first forum with the AAUP, President Zaccari and Denise Bogart: Powell Auditorium on Nov. 8 at 3:30pm.

(3) At the Executive Committee meeting in September, we asked the Committee on Committees to look at the potential for new senator positions, given that there are new faculty positions since the last time the number of senators was reviewed, and the number of senators is determined in a 4-1 ratio to the ex officios, and the representation from each college/unit must be proportional. (See Appendix B, formula from Jay Rickman, Lyle Indergaard and Elaine Yontz; accounting for ex officios.) Reviewing this formula will be an ongoing project for Jay Rickman as the Chair of the Committee on Committees, and Christine James as the Exec, and we will be seeking information from other Faculty Senates around the state system for comparison of their accounting of senators.

(4) The Faculty Senate Orientation PowerPoint includes a variety of information relevant to your required attendance at Faculty Senate meetings, and the duties of your committees. You can view it using Internet Explorer (the blue “e” on your computer’s desktop) at http://teach.valdosta.edu/chjames/FacultySenateOrientationCJ.htm
In addition, a special orientation session is being planned. This special orientation meeting will be open to past senators who would like a refresher course, and is required for new Faculty Senators, and will take place on October 26, Thursday one week after the October Faculty Senate meeting, at 3:30pm in the University Center, in the Cypress Room of the University Center.

(5) Jay Rickman suggests we create a student photograph feature in Banner, now remanded to Technology Committee (see Appendix C)
(6) Carl Hand asks for a statement clarifying the status of the Energy Policy, which was submitted to the Executive Committee last spring by Brad Bergstrom. The Energy Policy is formally remanded back to the subcommittee, as was the Recycling Policy. Both should be integrated into the campus-wide Environmental Policy, currently being worked on by the Environmental Issues Committee with the help of Bob DeLong, Jim Black, Greg Gordon, Ray Sable, Bart Greer, and campus leadership. Christy Coons Yates and Carl Hand also had a very productive meeting on the comprehensive Environmental Policy as it relates to budgeting, strategic planning initiatives, and implementation steps.

(7) Michael Noll suggested an official crosswalk be created in Georgia Avenue, across from the Parking and Transportation Office and Georgia gravel parking lot, with signage like the Patterson and Oak crossings. (See Appendix D) The President has accepted this suggestion and is now working with the city of Valdosta to create this new crosswalk, between the west side of the pedestrian mall driveway and the gravel lot.

(8) Peggy Moch requested that the Executive Committee review the due date for the Committee Meeting Schedules, primarily because some faculty may not know their spring teaching schedules by the current October 1 due date. (See Appendix E.) The Executive Committee is now reviewing the By Laws of the Senate, and in response to this request, Christine James suggested we add language stating that in the event that committee chairs cannot name specific meeting dates in the spring, they must at least submit their contact information to the Odum Library Reserves, Donna Jones djones@valdosta.edu, and state that they will be available by email and phone for anyone who wishes to be notified about future meetings.

(9) Update to the Faculty Senate’s changes to the Statutes, which were voted on and passed October 20, 2005. This small editorial change is necessary because the Presidents of the regional universities in the state system no longer report directly to the Chancellor. (See Appendix F)

“…sent to his/her immediate supervisor, the Chief Academic Officer and Executive Vice Chancellor of the University System of Georgia…”

(10) The President, Christy Coons Yates, and James LaPlant are in discussion about possibly adding the Chair of the Institutional Planning Committee as a member of the University Council, as per James LaPlant’s committee charge statement (see Appendix G) and the suggestions and discussion between Richard Carter and Christy Coons Yates at the last Faculty Senate meeting in September.

(11) Michael Noll’s request from last year requesting formal notes be sent from the Farber Student Health Center to faculty members upon a student’s visit to the Student Health Center has been remanded to Student Services, requesting that they contact Farber Student Health Center to investigate the legal/privacy issues involved (See Appendix H).

(12) Discussion about the best practices for making changes to the Statutes: University Council achievements over the past year (see Appendix I) Richard Carter email about the changes to the Statutes (see Appendix J)
Michael Noll’s email about the University Council and the Mission Statement (see Appendix K) In response to Richard Carter, the Faculty Senate will be having a discussion during this meeting to give advice to the President on the possible methods for changing the Statutes. In response to Michael Noll, the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate is considering the addition of a Preamble to the Statutes, suggested by Marty Williams, which will explicitly discuss “shared governance.”

After a general discussion regarding the revision of the statutes, the Faculty Senate approved a motion for the Faculty Senate Executive Committee and one of the original authors of the statutes to meet prior to the December holidays to review and revise the VSU Statutes. The revised VSU statutes will be presented to the Faculty Senate after the first of the year.

Additionally, President Zaccari mentioned that he is interested in the publication of a two-year calendar that will indicate the dates of the general faculty meetings.

f. Deb Briihl mentioned that the acoustics in the Magnolia Room were not good and suggested moving the Faculty Senate meetings back to the Odum Library Auditorium. Thressea Boyd, Assistant to the President, mentioned that the Magnolia Room will be undergoing some minor renovations during the holiday break that will improve the acoustics in the room. Jim Black, Vice President for Finance and Administration, confirmed Mrs. Boyd’s statement and mentioned that we should notice a significant difference in the acoustics of the Magnolia Room when the renovations have been completed. The Faculty Senate will still plan to meet in the Magnolia Room during the Spring 2007 semester unless otherwise informed.

Dear Christine,

@ our last Exec Comm Meeting, the President asked me to look into adding new positions to the Senate, but it turns out that by Statue, the size of the Senate is set @ a ratio of 4 elected senators for every Ex Officio Senator. The status of Ex Officio Senators is defined in the Statutes; so we are currently capped @ 56 elected senators b/c we have 14 Ex Officio Senators. I just got off the phone w/ Lyle, who confirmed my understanding as expressed in my email below. If you go down to the bottom of the document, I explored the issue of reappointment, and if my figures are correct, the only change is that one senate seat would be taken from COE and given to COAS. B/c the change is so minor, I am not sure that we want to bother w/ pursuing the matter, although we could leave that up to the Exec Comm.

Best, Jay

Subject: I found the Math Formula for reapportionment

Dear Lyle & Elaine,

Success! I did some more looking & I found a document from the 2003-04 year below; I believe this is the math formula that Lyle had mentioned to me last week, but it causing me some initial confusion.
As I understand the formula, the number of senate seats is divided by the total number of faculty; so the formula in 2003-04 was 56 divided by 471. But as you can see below, when that formula was created there was a decision to reduce the total number of senators from 60 to 56. Do either of you know why this was done? I looked @ the Statues, and the only thing it says about the size of the Senate is that there must be 4 senators for every ex officio senator, and based on the current number of ex officio senators (14), we get 4 X 14 = 56. [I assume the reduction from 60 senators to 56 senators was in response to the fact that we used to have a VP for IT, but that has been changed to a director position.]

If I am correct on my understanding of the Senate’s size, then the only way to increase the number of senators would be to increase the number of ex officio senators, and @ first I thought there might be a way to do this. Dr. Krosteng is listed on the web as an Associate VP, but as best I can figure, we count Deans as ex officio senators, but not associate/assistant deans. Is this correct?

Anyway, what do you think of my initial calculations below.
Best, Jay

Dear Christine,

Attached you will find my formal proposal to have the Technology Committee consider the desirability and feasibility of creating in BANNER a digital database of student photos using the current VSU ID cards. Thanks!

To: Senate Executive Committee
From: Dr. Barney Jay Rickman
Subject: A Proposal for the Senate’s Technology Committee.

I would like to propose that the Senate Technology Committee consider whether it would possible and desirable for VSU to incorporate into BANNER a digital database of student photographs from the VSU student ID cards. As you can see from my emails below w/ Shannon McGee (an IT person in the 1-Card Office) & Dr. Krotseng, I am proposing that VSU explore the feasibility and desirability of allowing VSU professors to see digital photographs of their students. Ms. McGee has explored the idea, and she thinks it might be possible for the OIT to implement this in BANNER in a parallel to the current BANNER screen that gives an instructor access to all the VSU email addresses for the students in a specific class. Access to such a database would help professors learn student names which should help VSU attain its planning goal of improving student retention. Based on my own experience, I have found that students respond positively to professors who take the time to learn their names. I know of several professors who take digital photos of students to facilitate learning student names, but I think a digital database would be a more efficient way to accomplish this goal. Such a database should also help root out possible academic dishonesty (i.e., a student taking a class for someone else).

I propose that the Senate Technology Committee explore this idea w/ Joe Newton of OIT. The Committee may also need to consult the University Attorney regarding the privacy issues mentioned below by Dr. Krotseng. [One possible solution would be to put the digital photos in a format in which they can be viewed on a screen & printed, but the professor would not be able to download a photo for any sort of resending or digital changes.] If the Senate Technology Committee determines that this idea is feasible and desirable, it could, along w/ the Faculty Senate, encourage the Office of Information Technology to include this project as one of OIT’s planning initiatives during the 2007-2008 planning cycle.

Hi, Jay!
Thanks for sharing your idea! This has some interesting possibilities – I’m not sure what privacy or other issues may be involved, but as you mentioned, it is important to begin to work this through a committee that can explore all such aspects. I am copying Christine James on this note because this could potentially come forward as a planning initiative through the Faculty Senate if the Senate would like to move forward on it following further study. Christine will have some good advice for you as to the best next steps – which, as you suggested, may be review by the Technology Committee.

I hope these thoughts are helpful. Best wishes to you as you explore this idea further. Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Dear Marsha,

If you look @ the two emails below, you will see that I approached one of my former students, Shannon McGee who is an IT person in the 1-Card Office, as to the possibility of giving instructors access to a database of student photos. Shannon has explored the idea, and she thinks it might be possible for the OIT to implement this in BANNER in what I assume would be a parallel to the current BANNER screen that gives an instructor access to all the VSU email addresses for the students in a specific class.

I would appreciate your advice on how I should move forward w/this concept. I know it is too late to pursue this idea in the current 2006-07 planning process, but I am wondering how I could have others look @ the idea to see if it is something that should be considered for the 2007-08 planning process. Would it make sense for me to send it to the Technology Committee of the Faculty Senate for them to review since there are members of the OIT on that committee as ex officio members, and if the committee likes the idea, then the committee could recommend that OIT consider it as a planning initiative for the 2007-08 planning process?

Dr. Rickman,

I’m so sorry it has taken me this long to respond. I have been busy trying to ask the right people your questions to see if this would even be a possibility. We do keep a database of the student photos from the ID card. It is my understanding that in the past it has been considered to give Public Safety and others access to this database but nothing has ever become of it. I believe there is also a place in BANNER where the photo can be stored, but I am not sure if OIT would want to use our data for that. From all the conversations I have had recently about this I honestly think we should try to determine an appropriate committee that this could go before. If enough interest is sparked it is more likely to happen if you know what I mean. I agree the access would be helpful to faculty. Please let me know what you think about sending it to committee somewhere and which committee that may be. I will be glad to help in any way that I can. Thank you!

Dear Shannon,

I had an idea this morning that I would appreciate your input on. I am in the process of learning all the names of my freshman students, and I was thinking that it was be much easier if I could have access to a photo of each student. I was wondering if the One Card Office keeps any sort of database of the student photos that go on the VSU ID card? If so, is there any way that faculty could be given on-line access to this database? This may not be possible, but I was thinking that BANNER already gives faculty a list of all the email addresses for our students, and I was just wondering if there was a way to create a database for a faculty member to see the ID photos of all the students in a class. Such access would help the professor learn the student names as well as root out any cheating – i.e., a student taking a class for someone else. This may be a crazy idea, but since you are the computer person for the One Card Office, I thought you could set me straight as to if this idea is even possible.

APPENDIX D:

Dear Christine.

Here are two issues I would like to bring to your attention, and which you may want to bring up at the next meeting of the Executive Committee. The first issue is rather small in comparison to the second, but both have been going through my mind lately and/or were initiated by discussions I had with colleagues. Thanks for considering these issues!

1) First of all a big compliment to the folks improving the safety of students, faculty, and staff in regard to the creation of clearly marked pedestrian crossings on Patterson Street and Oak Street. It has made a difference!

I would like to suggest that we also consider creating a pedestrian crossing on Georgia Avenue, where traffic coming out of VSU merges with the traffic on Georgia Avenue, right across the Parking and Transportation Department and near the gravel parking lot. I, like quite a few of my colleagues, cross this street fairly regularly and at times this can be a bit hairy. A clearly marked pedestrian crossing would certainly help and would be greatly appreciated.

What do you think?

Michael.

Hello Executive Committee,

I have received an item for the Executive Committee to discuss, and I will be happy to add it in to the agenda for our next meeting. The Educational Policies committee has asked that we shift the date for reporting the meetings of committees in the spring semester, to the first weeks of January. This is requested because some committee members do not yet know their spring teaching schedule. Is this perhaps something which we could speak to department heads about, based on their date to create the spring schedule (which I believe is actually early in September, perhaps they could give information to the faculty earlier?)

To: Dr. Christine James
Executive Secretary Faculty Senate

From: Dr. Peggy L. Moch
Chair Educational Policies Committee

Date: September 28, 2006

Re: Annual Meeting Schedule Policy

Currently all standing committees are required to submit their annual regular meeting schedules prior to October 1st of each academic year. During the discussion of when to set these meetings for the Educational Policies Committee, several faculty members commented their spring teaching schedules had not been finalized yet. Therefore, they could not reliably commit to a meeting schedule beyond the current semester. The discussion that followed recommended changing the policy to submitting meeting schedules at the beginning of each semester, instead of annually. Thank you for your time and consideration of this matter.

Respectfully submitted by Dr. Peggy L. Moch
… There was one change we noticed that needs to be made in the Statutes, in response to the Faculty Senate proposed amendment that the President should respond within 60 days. Due to the reorganization at the USG, the President does not report directly to the Chancellor; therefore, it should state "...sent to his/her immediate supervisor, the Chief Academic Officer and Executive Vice Chancellor of the University System of Georgia..."

Christine, this should be entered into the minutes at the next Faculty Senate as a change to the amendment that the Faculty Senate submitted for inclusion in the Statutes.

Dear Christine,

The Institutional Planning Committee held its first meeting on September 19, 2006. We plan to meet again on October 24, 2006.

We discussed the following charges:

· Advising issues on campus
· How to better connect the IPC to strategic planning on campus
· Receiving updates on strategic planning on campus

In terms of the first issue, there was a suggestion that we create a subcommittee to explore ways to improve advising on campus. Membership on the subcommittee would be drawn from the various advising centers across campus as well as faculty from the various colleges. We also want to make sure that a subcommittee on advising would not duplicate other efforts on campus. The chair of the IPC will investigate those efforts during the Fall 2006 semester before we make it an official goal to create this subcommittee.

The IPC also discussed ways to better connect our committee to the strategic planning process on campus. The committee approved a motion to recommend to the Executive Committee that the chair of the IPC serve as an ex officio member of the University Council. Our goal is to have this discussed in the Executive Committee.

Dr. Krotseng provided an update to the committee on strategic planning initiatives. Our goal is to continue these updates throughout the academic year.

The University Council meeting on September 26th mentioned the possibility of the IPC examining the “vision statement” for VSU. This will be discussed with the Executive Committee before it becomes a charge for the committee.

Finally, the written procedures for our committee can be found at: http://coefaculty.valdosta.edu/ipc/rev.htm

warmest regards,

James
Here the description of my initiative or request I presented some time ago, but which apparently lacked the paper trail to move it along in the process.

The idea is fairly simple:

1) As outlined in our current undergraduate catalog on page 79, “a student who misses 20% of the scheduled classes of a course will be subject to receiving a failing grade in the course.”

2) In the beginning of each semester we are also asked by the Registrar to submit proof rolls to indicate whether or not students registered in our classes are indeed attending them, or may have stopped attending them.

3) For years now I have stated the following course philosophy in my syllabi:

Class Attendance and Participation:

As an instructor, I want you to attend my course. I will do everything possible to make our class a fun learning experience. Your success in this course will very much depend on your attendance and participation. The evidence is simply overwhelming that regular class attendance correlates with higher grades, and irregular class attendance correlates with lower grades. To encourage your attendance, if you miss less than 3 classes I will add two extra points to your final grade point average. From past experience I can tell you that more than 10% of the class will be able to use these extra points to get a better grade at the end of the semester! To keep record of your attendance, I will take roll at each class. It will be your responsibility to sign these class rolls!

Thus, in the light of our needs as instructors to keep track of our students’ attendance behavior, it would be very helpful if the Infirmary would give students, who visit their facilities (for whatever reason and which should be kept confidential!) a note stating that they indeed visited them on such and such a date or time.

At this point instructors are asked to call the Infirmary to verify that specific students have visited their facilities, which cannot only be time consuming, but which also seems contrary to the mechanisms I have experienced at other institutions, or in other situations.

Just as it is the responsibility of students to register, enroll, withdraw, and to sign the role, it should also be their responsibility to show their instructors proof that they have been “sick” and, thus, needed to miss a class or two. Athletes do the same by showing their game schedules, other students may show documents indicating that they needed to appear in court due to jury duty, and then there are documented accidents, hospital visits, etc.

So why can the Infirmary not automatically provide documentation in the form of a simple note indicating that students visited their facilities, and which these students can then show to their instructors? That is the question I have for the Student Services Committee, and which I hope they can consider.

Thanks, Michael Noll

APPENDIX I:

University Council Accomplishments – Fall 2005-Fall 2006

1. Checklist for Reducing Potential Flashpoints introduced as a way to ensure thorough review of concepts discussed at University Council.

2. Dr. Zaccari initiated concept for engaging constituent groups (COSA, SGA, Senate) in process for policies reviewed by the University Council; thereby engaging the entire campus in collaboration with the University Council.

3. Jeremy Baker, SGA Vice President, engaged in selecting new bicycle racks.

4. Plant Operations designing a sidewalk connected to the Pedestrian Mall to address changes in pedestrian traffic and avoid safety issues with walking through the Nevins parking lot.

5. University Council adopts a formal Policy Procedure & Review Process specifically designed for a Presidential request for review of policies or procedures that affect the whole campus. Review process to include formal participation by 3 campus constituent groups.

6. Space Management Policy forwarded to constituent group’s for review

7. University Council introduced to their role as the formal planning council to recommend emphasis areas from the plan for adoption by the entire campus and establish performance indicators emphasis area.

8. Feedback given by UnCo for Completion module in Planning Database.

9. Student Success, Diversity, Professional Development and Private Support selected through collaborative discussion of individual submission from UnCo members.

10. Endorsement of Space Management Procedure, by all three constituent groups and the UnCo, approved by President.

11. Review and Endorsement of Student Success Center Concept

12. Participate in revision of VSU Statutes by Dr. Krotseng.

13. Participated in content development for Planning Workshops to be conducted during the summer months.

14. Emergency Contingency Plan Endorsed by all three constituent groups and the UnCo, Approved by President and forward to Board of Regents

15. UnCo Members collaborated with University Advancement by attending the Capital Campaign Retreat.

16. Compensation Policy (Dr. Denise Bogart)

17. Collaboration with University Council Members representing Student Government resulted in a refinement to the original walkway plan and immediate implementation of southern walkway bordering Nevins Lot.

18. President’s Update on the Faculty Senate Recycling Policy leads to collaboration with Senate EIC work groups and relevant staff experts needed for implementation. Project expanded to include development of a comprehensive Environmental Policy.
19. Encourage people who are having discussions about implementing or approving a policy that has implementation responsibilities beyond your unit, that the University Council is here to help. The whole focus of the UnCo is to collaboratively work out details in their development stages for policies such as recycling, so its implementation is possible.

20. Suggestion made that the possibility of Faculty Senate submitting initiatives through the budget process that would relate to impending policy development. This may be time for Faculty Senate to outline goals. Then we will be alerted through a strategic planning initiative to start thinking about a request for funding. This is your charge to start looking a head and talking with your executive group about goals for Senate for the year” (R. Zaccari). COSA also included in this process, thus expanding campus participation in the planning processes.

21. Information Item: MGT Staff Salary Study and it’s collaborative potential across campus (Dr. D. Bogart)

22. Suggestions for reporting functions that allow all Deans to see each other’s Strategies will result in additional database functionality.

23. Email Policy Discussions Generated the Following Recommendations:
   • Best Practices be developed so users have the tools to implement the policy.
   • “I want to suggest that we solicit Laverne Gaskins comments. She has a few minor updates.” (J. Newton)
   • “For academic people, we should not send any information protected by FERPA to any email accounts other than valdosta.edu.” (L. Levy)
   • “That is a good question. Should this be the policy on Email or the policy on Email and Portal? It is mentioned in section three.” (J. Newton)
   • “Part of this policy is to establish that official communication between the University and the student is through VSU email.” (J. Black) The secondary purpose is to encourage and get more users. (W. Peacock)
   • “Traycee you make a good point. Should the policy on email correspondence be broader to include the portal? I have not thought that far about it and the portal is a way to check email. There are potential uses of the portal that is beyond email that we may visit down the road.” (J. Newton)

24. Update on Strategic Plan Performance Indicators developed in work teams consisting of UnCo members and campus constituents who participated in the planning retreat.

25. Presidential Update on Enrollment Goal

26. Update of Process for Revising Statutes (Laverne Gaskins)

27. Discussion on Goal Setting in the Planning Database led to the following recommendations currently under implementation:
   • UnCo Advisory Member, Maggie Viverette requested examples of well-written planning goals and this has led to my request to present well-written action plans on the planning website. The UnCo supports the use of actual examples from the database as valuable for all of campus. These will be made accessible to everyone, without a need for a database account.
   • Show examples of goals that are actually initiatives and how to revise them.
   • Develop a report of all Strategies, and Action Plans; accessible by everyone on campus without requiring a database account. This will be implement during Fall 2006.
   • Database review to begin the second week in October, as done last year. We will read every goal and initiative and let people know if there are any revisions that need to be made.
   • At the recommendation of UnCo, Innovative goals will also be published to highlight those departments on campus that have exemplary strategies and action plans
Dear Jay,

Pursuant to our telephone conversation last week, I am sending this message reiterating several points related to the revision of the University Statutes, which I hope will be raised at tomorrow’s Faculty Senate Executive Committee meeting. I have already communicated most of this directly to President Zaccari week before last.

With regard to the University Council (UC), my major concerns, one of which I expressed openly in the last Faculty Senate meeting, are (1) insufficient representation of faculty and (2) the likelihood that such a group will become a self-reinforcing inner circle.

If trust is to be engendered between administration and faculty, then it is essential that the process of the revision of the University Statutes be absolutely above-board, transparent, and beyond any suggestion of manipulation. The Statutes call for a general faculty meeting. The opportunity to vote via the web is certainly not a meeting. At a meeting there is at least the opportunity for discussion of the issues at hand. It is unfortunate indeed that the date for the general faculty meeting was not selected in such a way as to maximize attendance and participation by faculty, thereby promoting an atmosphere of openness and broad participation. Obviously, a low voter turnout favors a small group capable getting its people out. Positive changes to the University Statutes ought to be obvious and should carry on their own merit, and the advocates of change should resort to persuasion, not manipulation. Calling a General Faculty meeting for Friday afternoon prior to Fall Break and the contingency plan to redefine quorum in terms of the number present at a second meeting certainly creates the perception of manipulation, and, understandably, there is suspicion among faculty as a result. It seems to me that a better approach would have been to call the meeting late afternoon, mid-week, after meeting with deans and department heads to educate them about the importance of full-participation by faculty and after providing to the general faculty several weeks in advance a document precisely detailing the proposed changes and the rationale for making them.

Thank you,

Richard

Good morning Dr. Zaccari and Christine.

I am glad that I took my time to come to yesterday's UC meeting. It certainly gives me a better sense now of this (relatively new) entity at VSU and I am also thankful for having had the opportunity to share my thoughts on certain issues pertaining the VSU Statutes. This e-mail is a follow up on the dialog that developed based on my remarks, as I want to make sure that I was not misunderstood.

I am not sure why the phrase "open governance" was used at some point because what I was referring to was "shared governance". From my point of view, both are not the same, although openness might just as well be as essential to good team work at VSU as shared governance. To make sure, I completely agree that "shared governance" includes responsibilities for ALL parties involved, and cannot just be a one-way street. Either way, a paramount principle such as "shared governance" always needs nourishment and ought to be mentioned in our Mission Statement, similar to how it appeared in the old Mission Statement.

I also better understand now that changing mission statements, such as the one we are about to vote on, entails a more lengthy approval process, all the way to the BOR. Thus, it makes perfect sense to me that once we have learned how to vote on such important matters as the VSU Statutes (as it involves the General Faculty of about 500 people, where reaching a quorum is indeed a challenge) we may also address the issue of missing components in our Mission Statement, should a consensus be reached on this, and go from there.

Moreover, I want to reiterate again that based on the role and charges of the IPC at VSU it seems to me that the IPC is a natural ally of the UC and, thus, should become a member of the UC to formalize this relationship.

With warm regards, Michael G. Noll.
