Guiding Your Staff Through Change

Wednesday, September 13, 2017 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM
Valdosta State University— University Center Rose Room

Change is one of the biggest stress inducers in the workplace. Because change is inevitable, it is beneficial for supervisors to be able to help their employees recognize, prepare, navigate, and implement change in ways that are beneficial for the individual and the institution. A team ready for change is a team ready for successful action.

Learning Objectives:

- Recognize the signs that change is going to occur
- Prepare your employees how to respond to change
- Identify the different ways people cope with change
- Utilize clear communication about the “hows” and “whys” of change
- Align policies, procedures, and rewards to support change

Instructor: Ashley Cooper

Ashley is a Training Specialist with the Employee and Organizational Development Department, a unit of Human Resources and Employee Development at Valdosta State University. As a Training Specialist, she specializes in Organizational Communication training. She also instructs at the institutional level on a variety of topics which include new staff employee orientation, customer service, management and leadership skills, communication skills, time management, and conflict management skills.
