

Right-to-Know

The Georgia Right-To-Know law requires each employee (faculty, staff and student workers) to be provided with information and training on hazardous chemicals that they may be exposed to as part of their job. At a minimum, basic level awareness training shall be provided at the time of initial assignment to the workplace.

Instructions:

- Go to the Right-to-Know website: www.usg.edu/facilities/rtk-ghs
- Read each page and click “Next” in the upper right hand corner.
- Answer all questions.
- Click “Finish.”
- Fill- in requested information which is located at the bottom of the page.
- Click “Submit.”
- Verify your information.
- Click “Ok.”
- Print Certificate

RTK Basic Awareness
Environmental Health & Safety Online Training Module

Introduction << Previous | Next >>

Introduction to RTK Basic Awareness Training

Welcome to the "Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia (USG) Environmental Affairs/Right-to-Know" world-wide-web (www) on-line training program. The Georgia legislature passed the "Public Employee Hazardous Chemical Protection and Right to Know Act of 1988 (O.C.G.A 45-22-2)" for the control of unsafe use of hazardous chemicals in the workplace. Because of this law and because the Board of Regents recognizes the need to address employee safety we have created this program to enhance our training efforts.

This on-line training program is designed to educate USG employees on the importance and benefits of properly recognizing and safely working with hazardous materials. Ultimately, our aim is to continue heightening employee safety awareness at all USG institutions, as well as complying with the "Public Employee Hazardous Chemical Protection and Right to Know Act of 1988".

Good luck and see you around campus!

Office of Environmental Health and Safety
Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia

