

Meg: I hate being a governess. I do try. But the children get the best of me. I should be meeting eligible young men. I want you to get Annie Moffat to invite me to her St. Valentine's Day ball! Oh, but I can't go. Every girl in Concord my age has been to a ball. And it would be the very first time I've ever worn a dress like that. Anything like that. What will I do when someone asks me to dance?
