

Tanya: The bride's father? Well, usually he'd pay. Though my dad drew a line at the third. He was full of good advice, though. Yes – there I'd be in my dress, all ready to walk down the aisle and he'd whisper "Don't worry love, I know a good lawyer." Why are we talking about my dad?