

Employment of Marriage and Family Therapists is projected to grow 16% from 2020-2030, much faster than the average for all occupations. Today's family therapists are employed in an array of settings, including private practice, public and private businesses, mental health agencies, schools, hospitals, medical family therapy offices, clinics, geriatrics, police departments, the court system, the Veterans Administration, prisons, health maintenance organizations (HMOs), home-based therapy, and more. It might interest you to know that a 2021 US News and World report Best Job ranking named Marriage and Family Therapy #2 in social service jobs. The job scored highest in the Job Market and Future Growth categories.