Assignment I: Media Observation (15 points)

Due Date: 16 May 2011 at 9am

Watch the documentary, African American Lives, a four-hour long, multi-episodic program tracing the genealogy of several notable African American entertainers, physicians or scientists. The program is co-produced and narrated by Dr. Henry Louis Gates, the Alphonse Fletcher University Professor at Harvard University.

The VSU-MLIS program has licensed the rights from PBS granting permission for students enrolled in MLIS 7999 to stream each of the one hour episodes. The videos will be available for the duration of the course.

View each of the four episodes: (1) Listening to our Past; (2) Searching for our Names (3) the Promise of Freedom; (4) Beyond the Middle Passage. Compose a paper which addresses the following areas:

- I. Describe the role of history in connection with genealogical research.
- II. Identify the emerging themes or concepts throughout the guests' narratives?
- III. Identify the specialties of the research experts.
- IV. Identify the kinds of documents used.
- V. Describe discoveries that either reinforced or introduced new information to the guests about their personal family narratives.
- VI. Personal reflections or responses to the program.

Paper Structure and Formatting guidelines:

- The paper should consist of four to six pages in length.
- There is an automatic five point reduction if you exceed the specified page count.
- Use 12-point font, one-inch margins, and double spacing.
- In the upper right hand corner of each page, insert your full name and page number. Use the header feature in your word processor to make the page numbers.
- If you quote or paraphrase from sources outside yourself, use MLA citation style.
- Complete sentences, correct spelling, appropriate grammar, and correct punctuation are required for full credit.
- Submit as .doc document. If using Word 2007, save it down to Word 2003.

Week 2: Census Reports and Vital Records

May 15 to May 21

Moore, Section 4. Census Records & Forms, 1800-1920 – p.19-21 (E-reserve)

Moore, Section 5. Other Genealogical Records – p.23-29 (E-reserve)

Assignment II: Personal Research Pt. 1 (15 points)

Due Date: 23 May 2011 at 9am

Students reflect upon their own histories by examining their own genealogies as a method to gain perspectives of future clientele seeking their assistance. Students will begin to use census reports and other vital records to map their own genealogy.

Based on the current knowledge of your family:

1. Complete an ahnentafel chart with you as number one (up to five generations). Contact one other relative to help fill in any basic information gaps.
2. Complete a pedigree chart with you as number one (up to five generations). Contact one other relative to help fill in any basic information gaps.
3. Reflection on the process:
 - a. What did you know about your ancestors before creating these charts?
 - b. What surprises did you encounter or what information was confirmed?
 - c. What challenges or roadblocks did you encounter?
 - d. Describe two questions that you want to pursue in the future.

Paper Structure and Formatting guidelines:

- The paper should consist of four to six pages in length.
- There is a five point reduction if you exceed the specified page count.
- Use 12-point font, one-inch margins, and double spacing.
- In the upper right hand corner of each page, insert your full name and page number. Use the header feature in your word processor to make the page numbers.
- If you quote or paraphrase from sources outside yourself, use MLA citation style.
- Complete sentences, correct spelling, appropriate grammar, and correct punctuation are required for full credit.
- Submit as .doc document. If using Word 2007, save it down to Word 2003.

Assignment III: Personal Research Pt.2 (15 points)

Due Date: 28 May 2011 at 9am

Family histories emerge as we engage in genealogical research & conversation with relatives. Select 2 stories that were revealed as you conducted research. For each story, address the following:

- Who/what is the source of the story? i.e., who did you speak with, what story did you find
- What types of records could document/support the story?
- Where would you look for these particular records?
- How did these stories facilitate your fact finding mission? How did it help you fill in gaps?
- How are these family stories linked with larger histories in the local/regional/national communities?
- What books/resources will be helpful in learning more about these larger histories?
- What are some unique/particular components related to your family research project? (e.g. African American/slavery, European immigration, Asian forced encampment, military service, religious affiliation) .

Assignment IV: Site Visitation (15 points)

Due Date: 3 June 2011, at 9am

Visit a genealogical or history based institution of your choice which provides access to primary documents. The facility could be a library, a local history center, a LDS History Center, a national or regional archives or one of several other kinds of institutions who provides research access for genealogists. Interview one of the staff persons working in the facility. Create a Microsoft power point presentation about the institution using a minimum of 12 slides and a maximum of 15 slides excluding a title or acknowledgement page. The presentation must contain at least one slide for each of the following elements:

- the mission of the library or information center
- the patrons who regularly utilize the facility
- description of the collection
- description of the kind of services provided
- the education, experience and background of the staff member or staff members
- the relationship of the institution with other institutions or organizations
- common obstacles assisting researchers
- ethical considerations that are important in this library or information center
- advice for you and your classmates as you prepare for your careers

Technical Requirements

All assignments must be submitted using computer programs that are compatible with VSU-supported formats. For word processing documents, MS Word is preferred (2003 or 2007). If you are using a lower version of WordPerfect or some other word processing software, save your documents as Rich Text Format (rtf).

Distance Learning Support

A VSU reference librarian is responsible for coordinating library services for off-campus VSU students. That librarian's email and phone contact will be provided to you at the start of this semester. An online guide for distance education students is on the Odum Library Web site at http://www.valdosta.edu/library/services/revised_students.pdf.

Academic Dishonesty

"Valdosta State University expects that graduate students will pursue their academic endeavors and conduct themselves in a professional and ethical manner. All work that a student presents to satisfy course requirements should represent his or her own efforts, including appropriate use and acknowledgement of external sources."

Specific regulations related to student conduct and behavior are contained in the Student Handbook, Student Code of Ethics. Please acquaint yourself with the full policy at http://coefaculty.valdosta.edu/troot/eced4300/Academic_points20Dishonesty.doc.

It is your responsibility to make sure you understand how to avoid breeches of academic integrity. It is not the responsibility of the instructor to post rules for citing, quoting, or ethical exchange of information for every assignment. If you are unsure about the parameters of an assignment, ask for clarification.

Special Needs Statement

Valdosta State University is an equal opportunity educational institution. It is not the intent of our institution to discriminate against any applicant for admission or any student or employee of the institution based on the sex, race, religion, color, national origin, or the handicap of the individual. It is the intent of the institution to comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and subsequent executive orders as well as the Title IX section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Students requiring classroom accommodations or modifications because of a documented disability should discuss this need with the professor at the beginning of the semester. Students requesting classroom accommodations or modifications due to a documented disability must contact the Access Office for Students with Disabilities located in room 1115 Nevins Hall. The phone numbers are 245-2498 (V/VP) and 219-1348 (TTY).

Student Agreement

Enrollment in this class signifies that the student has agreed to abide by and adhere to the policies and regulations specified above. It is understood that the instructor may adapt or change this syllabus and the assignments contained within it according to circumstances that may arise during the course of the semester.
